Ike Catches Democrats By Surprise

May Have Put Self On Political Spot With His Demand

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower may have put not only the Democratic Congress but himself on a political spot with his demand for speedy action on highway, housing and wheat legislation.

Eisenhower caught the Democrats by surprise Wednesday with a special message outlining the damage to the economy that may result in these three politically potent fields if Congress dawdles.

There seemed little doubt that Democrats will answer the President's request for emergency action with passage of a series of bills calling for government spending far beyond the limits Eisenhower has said he is willing to accept.

Because he emphasized the critical nature of the problems, Democrats think the President has put himself in a position where he may find it difficult to veto such measures.

Beyond that, the opposition party believes it can use the President's own words — such as his statement there is an "impending disaster in wheat" — to build up strength for attempts to override any vetoes that may be forthcoming.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, acting Senate Democratic leader, made it clear his party has no intention of yielding to Eisenhower's views on important aspects of highway, housing and wheat legislation. A similar reaction came from House Democratic leaders.

Mansfield said, for instance, there is no possibility that Congress will even consider increasing the gasoline tax from 3 to 4½ cents a gallon. Eisenhower had asked the increase to finance additional grants to the states for construction of interstate highways.

There is no dispute in Congress over Eisenhower's request for additional loan insurance authority for the Federal Housing Administration. But both the Senate and a House committee have included this in general housing bills which contain features to which Eisenhower objects. Mansfield said the housing bills will not be pared down to the limits the President wants.

The House Agriculture Committee answered Eisenhower's plea for lower wheat supports by voting Wednesday to maintain these price props at 90 per cent of parity for the next two years, instead of the 75 per cent supports now in effect. The House committee did approve a 30 per cent reduction in wheat acreage allotments.

There were strong indications, however, that neither the House nor the Senate would accept the committee bill in its present form.

2-Cent Hike Per Gallon Put On Fuel

Measures Will Go Back To House For OK On Amendments

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Senate early today assured Ohio of at least a 300-million-dollar-a-year highway construction program on a pay-as-you-go basis. It will be financed by a two-cents-a-gallon increase in the gasoline and diesel fuel tax.

The Senate passed, after hours of microscopic and legalistic inspection, the first two of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's tax bills. Both had been approved previously by the House, but both must return to the House for approval of amendments.

A bill to increase the barrel tax on 3.2 beer from $1.50 to $2.50 passed the Senate Wednesday afternoon without too much trouble, 23-9.

But the vote on the bill to produce 116 millions in the next two years through a tax increase on both gasoline and diesel fuel was another story.

In the afternoon, Sen. Ray T. Miller (D-Cuyahoga), son of the Democratic chairman in Cuyahoga County, said the gasoline tax measure was not in order because it proposed to set aside the 116-million-dollar gasoline tax in a fund which had not yet been created by the Legislature.

The fund-creating bill was languishing in a Senate committee.

The Senate agreed with Miller that the cart was before the horse. By an 18-14 vote, it sent the bill back to its State Government Committee.

Much later, following a caucus, Senate Democrats agreed to write into the gasoline tax increase bill a provision setting up the highway construction fund to receive the estimated 116 - million-dollar yield. Then, by a 30-13 vote the question of recommitment was reconsidered.

The Senate beat back a number of amendments, including one by Minority Leader C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens) to limit the increase to one cent a gallon and another to spread the increase among local governments.

The Senate floor votes on the gasoline and beer tax bills came against a background of compromise on two other DiSalle tax measures.

In lieu of a 35-million-dollar-a-year sales tax on machinery used directly in farm and industrial production, the Senate Taxation Committee accepted a quadrupled tax on corporation franchises. It is estimated to produce another 32 million dollars a year for the state treasury.

The bill to increase corporation franchise fees under the compromise would retain the one-tenth of one per cent tax on state banks and make state building and loan firms subject to the same one-tenth per cent levy. The revised measure also would keep the minimum corporation fee at $50 as approved by the House against a present $25 minimum fee.

The Senate Taxation Committee today probably will accept, after weeks of bickering, a sales-tax revision measure—an omnibus bill which now includes elimination of sales tax stamps, reimposition of the penny tax on purchases between 16 and 41 cents, purchases of ice, wine and liquor and occupancy of hotel and motel rooms.

The watered-down bill, sponsors say, probably will produce about 120 millions in new revenue in the next two years.

The provision for ending use of sales tax stamps probably will be kept in the "omnibus" bill at DiSalle's insistance.

Democrat Committee members refused Republican requests for time to study effects of the additional boost in franchise fees.

Part Of Sweeping Package To Unite Germany

West Powers Propose That Berlin Be United Under Big 4 Guarantees

GENEVA (AP) — The Western powers proposed to Russia today that divided Berlin be made a united city under Big Four guarantees as the first step in a sweeping package plan to unify East and West Germany and begin global disarmament.

The massive, four-phase Western program was introduced in the fourth session of the Big Four foreign ministers conference as the Western response to Russia's demand that West Berlin be made a free city. It also countered Premier Nikita Khrushchev's call for a peace settlement with divided Germany.

The proposals provides for successive disarmament measures, including initial limits of 2½ million men in the armed forces of the United States and Russia, and leading eventually to limitation and possible withdrawal of all foreign troops (Soviet and Western) from Germany and neighboring areas.

It would unify Germany in 30 months. United Germany would be free to elect membership in either the Atlantic Alliance (NATO) or the Soviet bloc's Warsaw Pact or to choose a neutral policy.

Whatever the choice, the big powers, Germany and other European countries would take steps to avoid any change in the East-West balance of power and could enter into agreements against aggression. Western leaders have long expressed confidence Germany would line up with the West.

As a package the plan had no prospects of even serious consideration by Russia. Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko has already rejected it as a "tangle" of unrelated issues. But parts of it, especially the Berlin proposal, conceivably could lead to some bargaining.

Berlin, in the first phase of the package program, would be united by "free elections to be held through all Berlin under supervision" of either the big powers or the United Nations. The United States, Russia, Britain and France would keep their troops until the final German peace settlement provided for in the fourth phase.

A city council would be responsible for administering the whole city under the general supervision of the Big Four, but the powers could intervene in city affairs only by unanimous vote. How this arrangement would affect East Germany's capital in East Berlin was not stated.

Big 3 Aides Discuss Way To Speed Test Ban

GENEVA (AP) — U.S., British and Soviet foreign ministers had a talk today about ways to speed up a ban on nuclear weapons tests, under discussion here for six months.

Taking time out from the problems of Berlin and Germany, they considered the possibility of organizing a new scientific study of problems connected with such a suspension.

If Big Three scientists got together, they might consider technical data connected with the detection of testing, including blasts in outer space. This might involve cooperation between the United States, British and Soviet governments in putting up artificial satellites to police such tests.

Secretary of State Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko met for 90 minutes in Herter's lakeside villa.

Some hope was expressed in Washington that the Western powers will be able to reach an accord with the Soviets. But there are still a lot of big problems to be solved. They deal mainly with enforcing a test ban.

France, which has not yet joined the atomic club, did not take part in today's meeting of U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. It was held several hours before the daily session of the Big Four conference on Germany.

Beaver Waits Primary With 74 Candidates

Industry Township Will Nominate As Prelude To Borough

Polls for Beaver County's primary election Tuesday will be open from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. in 121 voting precincts. Some 84,138 voters, including 44,519 Democrats and 39,619 Republicans are eligible to vote.

Political leaders are predicting a turnout of 40 per cent of the Republicans and between 50 and 60 per cent of the Democrats.

Some 700 non-partisan electors will not vote until the general election Nov. 3.

A total of 74 candidates — 51 Democrat and 23 Republican — are seeking nominations for county posts.

County offices include commissioner, district attorney, controller, recorder of deeds, coroner, surveyor, clerk of courts, sheriff, registrar of wills, treasurer and prothonotary.

All incumbents except Controller Richard Fulton are candidates.

Treasurer John Neely Jr. of Rochester can not succeed himself and is seeking the registrar of wills nomination from incumbent Clair L. Allison of West Bridgewater.

Election returns probably will be slow with hundreds of write-ins expected, a Courthouse spokesman said, with local elections expected to bring out the most votes.

Big Beaver and Industry Townships will become officially boroughs on Jan. 1 and each will nominate for a full list of offices for the new political sub-division.

The Democratic campaign has been rather quiet and the Republican campaign has been practically non-existent, observers said.

Beaver Falls and other boroughs and townships of the county will nominate either councilmen or supervisors and school directors as well as assessors.

In Midland, some 3,047 residents, including 1,945 Democrats and 1,102 Republicans, will be eligible to vote in the borough's five precincts. Some 19 non-partisan voters will skip the primary.

Precincts include:

Borough Building, first; 7th St. School, second; Croatian Hall, 500 Beaver Ave., third; 4th St. School, fourth, and Midland Heights Community building, fifth.

In Midland, eight Democrats have filed for three Council posts along with three Republicans. Six Democrats are running for three school director posts along with three Republicans. Three Democrats and one Republican are seeking the assessor post. Two Democrats and one Republican are running for justice of the peace.

Kurds Fleeing Iraq To Evade Communists

Thousands Crossing Border Rather Than Submit To Red Grip

PASVEH, Iran (AP)—Thousands of Kurd tribesmen have fled across the rugged northwest Iranian frontier from Iraq rather than submit to domination by a pro-Communist chieftain.

There was sharp fighting in the frontier area as recently as four days ago, when about 5,000 Kurds crossed into Iran. Others of the tribe have fled into Turkey.

This information comes from Amir Aly Asheyara, the head khan (landlord) of a huge area occupied by Kurds of the Mamash tribe. He owns this village and about 150 other Kurdish villages in the southwestern part of Iran's Azerbaijan Province, only a few miles from the Iraqi border.

The Kurds, under a leader identified as Sheik Raschid, left 13 Barzani tribesmen dead after a fight with them and Iraqi gendarmerie. The khan said Raschid lost two dead and had two wounded.

The Barzanis are followers of Mullah Mustafa Barzani, who spent a dozen years in exile in the Soviet Union after an abortive attempt to establish a satellite Kurdistan in Iran, Iraq and Turkey.

The khan said Sheik Raschid's people lacked sufficient ammunition to continue the battle and had to flee. He said the 1,000 refugee families now live in tent settlements not far from here.

Apparently many Kurds preceded Raschid's people across the frontier in a migration which began soon after the Iraqi revolution last July. This country is so rugged, vast and underpopulated that it is easy for Kurds to lose themselves in it.

This village is not likely to appear on many maps, but its leader is an influential Kurd, ruling about 20,000 people.

Ike Has Busy Day Slated In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower comes to town today to launch some cultural progress, see the world's wares and receive gifts ranging from Swiss handkerchiefs to a Czech chandelier.

Then he makes a speech.

The President's hustle-bustle, one-day visit starts with groundbreaking ceremonies for a new 58-million-dollar performing arts center, shifts to a world trade fair and winds up at a science dinner.

At the fair, exhibiting nations will present him with a truckload of exotic products.

Court Rejects Bishop's Plea

Burglary Conviction Upheld By Appellate

The conviction of Dallas Bishop, 41-year-old ex-special officer, for a 1952 burglary of the Smith & Phillips Co. store, has been affirmed by the 7th District Court of Appeals, County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw reported today.

The prosecutor said he was notified this morning by the appellate court an appeal filed by the Salineville area handyman has been turned down.

Bishop, free on $5,000 bond since his trial in June 1958, is slated to be taken into custody and the sentence of 1-15 years at the Ohio State Penitentiary is to be executed, Brokaw said.

Bishop was sentenced June 9, 1958, by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who presided over the case in which the ex-special officer was tried separately on an indictment which also charged Ira Cunningham and Robert Carroll, former policemen.

It was one of nine indictments of police officers handed down in 1956. At one time, Bishop served as a prosecution witness along with Robert McBane, former officer who pleaded guilty to eight of the indictments, but repudiated a 12-page statement on the witness stand and stood trial on two of the charges.

He was acquitted of a charge of entering the Berman Lumber Co. in 1954.

Air Tragedy Causes Seen Weeks Away

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—It will be weeks, possibly months, before the public knows the causes of two airliner accidents — 300 miles and 38 minutes apart — that claimed 33 lives. Both involved Capital Airlines planes bound for Atlanta.

A mysterious explosion ripped apart a turboprop Viscount high over Maryland, hurling all 31 aboard to their deaths. The tragedy occurred at 5:18 p.m. Tuesday 15 miles east of Baltimore when the air was turbulent from a thundersquall.

Just 38 minutes earlier, a giant Constellation landing at Charleston, W.Va., toppled over the end of a runway and burst into flames, killing two of the 44 persons aboard.

The Viscount was en route from New York nonstop. The Constellation came from Buffalo, N.Y., via Pittsburgh.

Civil Aeronautics Board investigators converged on both locations but made it clear, after a full day's work, that it would take a long time to get any specific answers.

Was there a bomb on the Baltimore plane? This was the question everyone asks and it had no answer.

Attempted Landing In Fog

1 Killed, 6 Hospitalized As Blimp Crashes Hangar

LAKEHURST, N. J. (AP)—One crewman was killed early today when a silvery Navy blimp crashed into a hangar while attempting to land in a dense fog. Six crewman were hospitalized and several others suffered minor injuries.

The wreckage was wedged in the hangar roof 150 feet above the ground.

The dead man was identified as Lt. (j.g.) David Malcolm Loyd of Vega, Tex. He had been crushed in the wreckage.

The freak accident left the wreckage near the top of the 150-foot high hangar. The whole rooftop was shrouded by the limp folds of the blimp's great gas bag.

Rescuers had to reach the scene with aerial ladders and then tunnel beneath the deflated bag to reach the gondola car where the injured lay. It had rammed partially through the hangar roof and remained stuck fast.

The ZPG-2 blimp was returning from a routine 21-hour anti-submarine patrol early this morning. It was making a radar-controlled instrument approach through a swirling fog that blanketed ou everything more than 100 fee away.

"They probably never saw the ground until after the hit," said Lt. Cmdr. Herman Spahr, administrative officer, of Squadron 3 to which the craft was attached.

"The fog was so bad we radioed the blimp to gain altitude and try to come in again," said Spahr. It was just picking up speed to 45 miles an hour when it hit.

The huge bag was ripped by the wreckage and its million cubic feet of helium wooshed out through its rent sides. The gas is non-inflammable and dispersed without harm into the fog.

Rescuers at first were unable to locate four officers and two men beneath the entangling sheets of the 343-foot long bag. They were found in the fore part of the metal alloy gondola.

After almost five hours one of the officers was pried loose. He was taken down a ladder strapped in a litter. The shirt of one of the litter bearers was smeared with blood.

The crew members in the rear of the car were unhurt and made their way down ladders to safety.

Police Chase Speeding Car; 4 Die In Crash

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—An automobile pursued by Warren police in a high speed chase crashed head-on into another car early today killing four Trumbull County persons.

One of the dead was William Visher, 26, of Hubbard Twp., who was being pursued along Ohio 5 by Warren Patrolmen James Julian and Leslie Edmunds.

The other three killed were in a car struck head-on by Visher's automobile, which the patrolmen said was weaving at high speed and had crossed the highway centerline. Those three were Mrs. Edith Lenney, 41, and Mrs. Margaret List, about 55, both of nearby Oakfield, and Charles Shay, about 50, of Warren.

Ralph Lilly, 59, of Leavittsburg, driver of the car hit by Visher's is in fair condition at St. Joseph Hospital.

The cruiser chased Visher for about four miles at speeds up to 90 m.p.h.

In Midland, some 3,047 residents, including 1,945 Democrats and 1,102 Republicans, will be eligible to vote in the borough's five precincts. Some 19 non-partisan voters will skip the primary.

Precincts include:

Borough Building, first; 7th St. School, second; Croatian Hall, 500 Beaver Ave., third; 4th St. School, fourth, and Midland Heights Community building, fifth.

In Midland, eight Democrats have filed for three Council posts along with three Republicans. Six Democrats are running for three school director posts along with three Republicans. Three Democrats and one Republican are seeking the assessor post. Two Democrats and one Republican are running for justice of the peace.

Kurds Fleeing Iraq To Evade Communists

Thousands Crossing Border Rather Than Submit To Red Grip

PASVEH, Iran (AP)—Thousands of Kurd tribesmen have fled across the rugged northwest Iranian frontier from Iraq rather than submit to domination by a pro-Communist chieftain.

There was sharp fighting in the frontier area as recently as four days ago, when about 5,000 Kurds crossed into Iran. Others of the tribe have fled into Turkey.

This information comes from Amir Aly Asheyara, the head khan (landlord) of a huge area occupied by Kurds of the Mamash tribe. He owns this village and about 150 other Kurdish villages in the southwestern part of Iran's Azerbaijan Province, only a few miles from the Iraqi border.

The Kurds, under a leader identified as Sheik Raschid, left 13 Barzani tribesmen dead after a fight with them and Iraqi gendarmerie. The khan said Raschid lost two dead and had two wounded.

The Barzanis are followers of Mullah Mustafa Barzani, who spent a dozen years in exile in the Soviet Union after an abortive attempt to establish a satellite Kurdistan in Iran, Iraq and Turkey.

The khan said Sheik Raschid's people lacked sufficient ammunition to continue the battle and had to flee. He said the 1,000 refugee families now live in tent settlements not far from here.

Apparently many Kurds preceded Raschid's people across the frontier in a migration which began soon after the Iraqi revolution last July. This country is so rugged, vast and underpopulated that it is easy for Kurds to lose themselves in it.

This village is not likely to appear on many maps, but its leader is an influential Kurd, ruling about 20,000 people.

Ike Has Busy Day Slated In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower comes to town today to launch some cultural progress, see the world's wares and receive gifts ranging from Swiss handkerchiefs to a Czech chandelier.

Then he makes a speech.

The President's hustle-bustle, one-day visit starts with groundbreaking ceremonies for a new 58-million-dollar performing arts center, shifts to a world trade fair and winds up at a science dinner.

At the fair, exhibiting nations will present him with a truckload of exotic products.

Burglary Conviction Upheld By Appellate

The conviction of Dallas Bishop, 41-year-old ex-special officer, for a 1952 burglary of the Smith & Phillips Co. store, has been affirmed by the 7th District Court of Appeals, County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw reported today.

The prosecutor said he was notified this morning by the appellate court an appeal filed by the Salineville area handyman has been turned down.

Bishop, free on $5,000 bond since his trial in June 1958, is slated to be taken into custody and the sentence of 1-15 years at the Ohio State Penitentiary is to be executed, Brokaw said.

Bishop was sentenced June 9, 1958, by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who presided over the case in which the ex-special officer was tried separately on an indictment which also charged Ira Cunningham and Robert Carroll, former policemen.

It was one of nine indictments of police officers handed down in 1956. At one time, Bishop served as a prosecution witness along with Robert McBane, former officer who pleaded guilty to eight of the indictments, but repudiated a 12-page statement on the witness stand and stood trial on two of the charges.

He was acquitted of a charge of entering the Berman Lumber Co. in 1954.

Air Tragedy Causes Seen Weeks Away

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—It will be weeks, possibly months, before the public knows the causes of two airliner accidents — 300 miles and 38 minutes apart — that claimed 33 lives. Both involved Capital Airlines planes bound for Atlanta.

A mysterious explosion ripped apart a turboprop Viscount high over Maryland, hurling all 31 aboard to their deaths. The tragedy occurred at 5:18 p.m. Tuesday 15 miles east of Baltimore when the air was turbulent from a thundersquall.

Just 38 minutes earlier, a giant Constellation landing at Charleston, W.Va., toppled over the end of a runway and burst into flames, killing two of the 44 persons aboard.

The Viscount was en route from New York nonstop. The Constellation came from Buffalo, N.Y., via Pittsburgh.

Civil Aeronautics Board investigators converged on both locations but made it clear, after a full day's work, that it would take a long time to get any specific answers.

Was there a bomb on the Baltimore plane? This was the question everyone asks and it had no answer.

Attempted Landing In Fog

1 Killed, 6 Hospitalized As Blimp Crashes Hangar

LAKEHURST, N. J. (AP)—One crewman was killed early today when a silvery Navy blimp crashed into a hangar while attempting to land in a dense fog. Six crewman were hospitalized and several others suffered minor injuries.

The wreckage was wedged in the hangar roof 150 feet above the ground.

The dead man was identified as Lt. (j.g.) David Malcolm Loyd of Vega, Tex. He had been crushed in the wreckage.

The freak accident left the wreckage near the top of the 150-foot high hangar. The whole rooftop was shrouded by the limp folds of the blimp's great gas bag.

Rescuers had to reach the scene with aerial ladders and then tunnel beneath the deflated bag to reach the gondola car where the injured lay. It had rammed partially through the hangar roof and remained stuck fast.

The ZPG-2 blimp was returning from a routine 21-hour anti-submarine patrol early this morning. It was making a radar-controlled instrument approach through a swirling fog that blanketed ou everything more than 100 fee away.

"They probably never saw the ground until after the hit," said Lt. Cmdr. Herman Spahr, admin istrative officer, of Squadron 3 to which the craft was attached.

"The fog was so bad we radioed the blimp to gain altitude and try to come in again," said Spahr. It was just picking up speed to 45 miles an hour when it hit.

The huge bag was ripped by the wreckage and its million cubic feet of helium wooshed out through its rent sides. The gas is non-inflammable and dispersed without harm into the fog.

Rescuers at first were unable to locate four officers and two men beneath the entangling sheets of the 343-foot long bag. They were found in the fore part of the metal alloy gondola.

After almost five hours one of the officers was pried loose. He was taken down a ladder strapped in a litter. The shirt of one of the litter bearers was smeared with blood.

The crew members in the rear of the car were unhurt and made their way down ladders to safety.

Police Chase Speeding Car; 4 Die In Crash

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—An automobile pursued by Warren police in a high speed chase crashed head-on into another car early today killing four Trumbull County persons.

One of the dead was William Visher, 26, of Hubbard Twp., who was being pursued along Ohio 5 by Warren Patrolmen James Julian and Leslie Edmunds.

The other three killed were in a car struck head-on by Visher's automobile, which the patrolmen said was weaving at high speed and had crossed the highway centerline. Those three were Mrs. Edith Lenney, 41, and Mrs. Margaret List, about 55, both of nearby Oakfield, and Charles Shay, about 50, of Warren.

Ralph Lilly, 59, of Leavittsburg, driver of the car hit by Visher's is in fair condition at St. Joseph Hospital.

Post-Prom Party Plans Finished

The Midland post-prom committee said plans have been completed for the party to follow the Midland High School Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening.

The party will be held from 1 to 5 a. m. Saturday in the United Steelworkers Hall, following registration after the school dance.

The decorations at the USW Hall will be in keeping with the prom's theme of "Enchanted Evening" and the colors will be pink and white. The programs and favors will be in the same theme and colors.

A smorgasbord dinner will be served before the entertainment.

BRAD HUNT'S Orchestra of Pittsburgh and the Premier's rock 'n' roll combo, with Tony Garland, comedy emcee, and Patti Sims, vocalist, will entertain at the party.

The students must register at the union hall between midnight and 1 a. m. with the doors then being locked. Parents of registered couples who do not appear by the 1 a. m. deadline will be notified by the telephone committee. No one will be permitted to leave until 5 a. m. Should parents desire that their youngsters leave earlier, it will be necessary first to phone the committee, send a written excuse and then call for them personally.

A reception committee comprised of the post-prom committee officers, Board of Directors and program and entertainment chairmen will greet the students, approximately 68 couples, as they come from the school for registration.

THE COMMITTEE officers are Raymond Stowitzky, president; Michael Hohan, vice president; Mrs. John Nunn, secretary, and Mrs. Alfred L. Steff, treasurer.

They have been assisted in planning and arranging for the party by the Board of Directors, Mrs. Joseph Benek, Mrs. Mitchell Disdore, Mrs. Lona Petties, Dr. Zanvel Sigal, Mrs. Maldwyn Evans, Mrs. Grover Epley and Joseph D'Alesio, president of USW Local 1212.

Mrs. Epley is food chairman; Stowitzky, entertainment; Mrs. Benek, diningroom and decorations, assisted by Mrs. John Mueller; Mrs. John Shovlin III, program; Mrs. Disdore and Dr. Sigal, telephone committee, and Mrs. Steff, publicity chairman.

A COMMITTEE, comprised of mothers of the junior and senior students, will work all day Friday in preparing the food for the affair and assisting the committee Friday night to Saturday morning, chaperoning the students.

The Midland High School administration, faculty members, Board of Education and members of contributing organizations have been invited to attend the party, along with the students and their guests.

Mrs. Steff, treasurer, reported during the business session Monday night that donations were received from the Midland Lioness Club, the Midland Junior Women's Club, the Semi-Soet Club, the Industry Township Women's Club, the Matronite Club and USW Local 1212.

Cumberland Lions Back School Levy

NEW CUMBERLAND — Members of the Lions Club voted to support the additional 50 per cent levy in the special election to finance an improvement program for the Hancock County school system at a meeting Tuesday night.

About 40, including guests from clubs in Chester, Newell, Weirton and Wellsburg, attended the event in Swaney Memorial Library.

An explanation of the levy was presented by Joseph Endry, president of the County Education Association. The election will be held Tuesday.

Raymond Ewing, president, presided for business and delegates were named to the state convention in Charleston June 5-7. They are Atty. Edwin Flowers, Sam Minesinger, Squire John D. Herron and Dr. W. Dale Williams.

The Rev. Kenneth Fordyce, chairman of a nominating committee, reported that officers will be elected at the meeting, May 26.

Area Berry Growers To See Demonstration

LISBON—Columbiana and Mahoning County berry growers will meet Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. at the Virgil Yaeger farm northeast of Salem for a demonstration of labor-saving equipment. Two types of power hoes, two makes of automatic planters, two or more small row crop sprayers and other new equipment now available for strawberry growers will be shown.

Following the field demonstration, the growers will discuss the marketing program being developed for this year with the committee working on plans for co-operative grading and selling of a portion of the crop.

The event was scheduled by the executive committee of the Columbiana-Mahoning Berry Growers Association in co-operation with the Agriculture Extension Service.

Spice fried chicken by adding paprika, dry mustard and garlic or onion powder to the dipping flour.

Hancock Youth Chosen For Conservation Camp

A Chester area youth has been selected as Hancock County's representative at a State Conservation Camp at Camp Caesar June 8-13.

Myron Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Allison of the Allison community will study the conservation of wild life, forestry, soil and water at the camp.

Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent, said the youth has been growing corn, oats and wheat as a 4-H project for the past four years. He is a member of the Rhododendron 4-H Club.

Post-Prom Party Plans Finished

The Midland post-prom committee said plans have been completed for the party to follow the Midland High School Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening.

The party will be held from 1 to 5 a. m. Saturday in the United Steelworkers Hall, following registration after the school dance.

The decorations at the USW Hall will be in keeping with the prom's theme of "Enchanted Evening" and the colors will be pink and white. The programs and favors will be in the same theme and colors.

A smorgasbord dinner will be served before the entertainment.

BRAD HUNT'S Orchestra of Pittsburgh and the Premier's rock 'n' roll combo, with Tony Garland, comedy emcee, and Patti Sims, vocalist, will entertain at the party.

The students must register at the union hall between midnight and 1 a. m. with the doors then being locked. Parents of registered couples who do not appear by the 1 a. m. deadline will be notified by the telephone committee. No one will be permitted to leave until 5 a. m. Should parents desire that their youngsters leave earlier, it will be necessary first to phone the committee, send a written excuse and then call for them personally.

A reception committee comprised of the post-prom committee officers, Board of Directors and program and entertainment chairmen will greet the students, approximately 68 couples, as they come from the school for registration.

THE COMMITTEE officers are Raymond Stowitzky, president; Michael Hohan, vice president; Mrs. John Nunn, secretary, and Mrs. Alfred L. Steff, treasurer.

They have been assisted in planning and arranging for the party by the Board of Directors, Mrs. Joseph Benek, Mrs. Mitchell Disdore, Mrs. Lona Petties, Dr. Zanvel Sigal, Mrs. Maldwyn Evans, Mrs. Grover Epley and Joseph D'Alesio, president of USW Local 1212.

Mrs. Epley is food chairman; Stowitzky, entertainment; Mrs. Benek, diningroom and decorations, assisted by Mrs. John Mueller; Mrs. John Shovlin III, program; Mrs. Disdore and Dr. Sigal, telephone committee, and Mrs. Steff, publicity chairman.

A COMMITTEE, comprised of mothers of the junior and senior students, will work all day Friday in preparing the food for the affair and assisting the committee Friday night to Saturday morning, chaperoning the students.

PATTI SIMS
She'll Sing At Midland.

TONY GARLAND
Comedy Emcee For Fete.

FOR THE high school prom Friday evening, from 9 to midnight, colors, pink and white, will be used in the programs and decorations and a large stairway will be placed in a corner of the gym. Glenn Ross's Orchestra of Pittsburgh will provide the music.

Officers of the Junior Class are: Raymond Conjeski, president; Frances Alvania, vice president; Jeanne Brown, secretary; Linda Ketterer, historian, and Kenneth Russell and Gene Epley, Hi-Spot representatives.

Senior Class officers include: Steve Ordich, president; Dave Quiring, vice president; Barbara Marciniak, secretary - treasurer; and Gloria Anne Gengarella, historian. Irene Bassar and Bill LeMasters are the Hi-Spot representatives.

The Midland High School administration, faculty members, Board of Education and members of contributing organizations have been invited to attend the party, along with the students and their guests.

Mrs. Steff, treasurer, reported during the business session Monday night that donations were received from the Midland Lioness Club, the Midland Junior Women's Club, the Semi-Soet Club, the Industry Township Women's Club, the Matronite Club and USW Local 1212.

Common Pleas Court Shows 55-Case Gain

LISBON — Columbiana County Common Pleas Court gained 55 cases in April, according to a report sent to the office of the administrative assistant to the Supreme Court by the clerk of courts office.

There were 923 cases pending April 1, with 68 more filed during the month, giving a total of 991 cases. The court disposed of 123 cases during the month, including 56 domestic relations, 40 civil and 27 criminal.

Sixty-six were tried by court, 18 were cognovit and default judgments and 39 were settled and dismissed out of court.

The Court of Appeals had 7 cases pending April 1, with 3 more being filed, giving a total of 10. None was disposed of during the month.

Milk Tester Course Set

LISBON — A milk testing supervisor's short course is being offered at Ohio State University May 25-June 5, according to Floyd Lower, Columbiana County extension agent. Persons interested should contact their county agents for further information.

Pete Gebrian of Bayonne, N. J., former White Sox pitcher, is scouting for the New York Yankees.

Cumberland Lions Back School Levy

NEW CUMBERLAND — Members of the Lions Club voted to support the additional 50 per cent levy in the special election to finance an improvement program for the Hancock County school system at a meeting Tuesday night.

About 40, including guests from clubs in Chester, Newell, Weirton and Wellsburg, attended the event in Swaney Memorial Library.

An explanation of the levy was presented by Joseph Endry, president of the County Education Association. The election will be held Tuesday.

Raymond Ewing, president, presided for business and delegates were named to the state convention in Charleston June 5-7. They are Atty. Edwin Flowers, Sam Minesinger, Squire John D. Herron and Dr. W. Dale Williams.

The Rev. Kenneth Fordyce, chairman of a nominating committee, reported that officers will be elected at the meeting, May 26.

Area Berry Growers To See Demonstration

LISBON—Columbiana and Mahoning County berry growers will meet Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. at the Virgil Yaeger farm northeast of Salem for a demonstration of labor-saving equipment. Two types of power hoes, two makes of automatic planters, two or more small row crop sprayers and other new equipment now available for strawberry growers will be shown.

Following the field demonstration, the growers will discuss the marketing program being developed for this year with the committee working on plans for co-operative grading and selling of a portion of the crop.

The event was scheduled by the executive committee of the Columbiana-Mahoning Berry Growers Association in co-operation with the Agriculture Extension Service.

Khrushchev Couldn't Be That Charming

An official chokeup over a possible visit to the United States by Premier Khrushchev is not diplomatic but psychological.

The mighty minds in government who overtax themselves by deep worrying about the state of U.S. public opinion are skittish because there is no more outgoing personality in international relations today than Nikita Khrushchev.

Even people who don't like him have had to admit that he is his own best public relations expert. He can grin, caper, spoof, kiss babies and come on with the common touch as if he had been coached by an expert in public affability.

There is a gnawing, horrible dread in deep-worry circles that Khrushchev might do three or four times as well as Anastas Mikoyan did last January, which was very well indeed. That is to say that not once during his three-week stay in this country did the Soviet Union's first deputy premier use a gun or a club on any innocent bystander. Though not noted for jollity, Mikoyan managed to leave the impression that he enjoyed his visit and would like to come back sometime.

KHRUSHCHEV is noted for affability, on the other hand. When he sets out to be charming, he can be very charming indeed. He is as far from the popular image of a Communist dictator as anyone could be — and this is what worries the deep worriers.

They are doubtful that the American people can distinguish between the man and what he stands for. These are the same worriers who fret lest people who enjoy the Bolshoi Ballet on its current tour may fail to remember Hungary — lest frequent contact with Russian political figures lead to acceptance of the Communist credo.

The number of the worriers is not inconsiderable. The concern felt in high places about a possible visist by Khrushchev reflects widespread concern among Americans.

BUT TO KNOW the Russians better as individuals is not to accept their ideas — far from it. Americans are not as susceptible as all that to personal charm.

Khrushchev as a visitor in this country would have about as much effect on American ideas about Communism as Vice President Nixon's forthcoming visit to Moscow will have on Russian ideas about capitalism. Mr. Nixon can be every bit as charming as Deputy Premier Mikoyan was. He would be as charming as President Eisenhower, himself, and not convert anyone in Russia to capitalism.

The deep worriers are underestimating the collective good sense of the American people. They frequently do.

A Slight Handicap

Dead Pilots Give No Indications

Civil Aeronautics Board investigators are busy again. A no-survivors accident has caused a plane to explode in flight. Lightning is a possibility.

But no one survived to talk about it. Dead pilots can give no indication of what may have happened in the split second before the end.

A slow-moving ship's movements and all conditions abroad are reported continuously in a log book. Trains have recording devices to show their rate of speed. Test pilots relate each move they make in the performance of their jobs.

It would be wholly impractical, of course, to require pilots and co-pilots on scheduled airlines to keep a voice log of their flights. It would be out of the question for that third man who has won the right to go along for the ride on the new jet planes to serve as the talker.

It would be ridiculous to take down everything either on a recording machine in a fireproof container in the plane, or to keep a recording machine attached to an open circuit, so any spontaneous statement or exclamation could be taken down.

Pilots would object. Management would object. But there would be no objection by the millions of people who believe the era of flight will not have come to maturity until there are no more unexplainable accidents. Until that happens, aviation will still be in its formative years.

In the not too distant future, man will begin to fly through space, away from the earth and its field of gravity. Everything he sees, hears or even senses will be recorded. In the meantime, will there continue to be a blank about things seen, heard and sensed in the few seconds before accidents in airplanes — accidents that can be explained only by guesswork, surmise and deduction while salvagers are picking up the pieces and morticians are preparing the broken bodies for burial?

It Never Was The Dandelion's Idea

For every thousand householders who relish the sight of dandelion blooms disintegrating under the punishment of a rotary mower . . .

For every bushwhacker who decapitates dandelions with a long-handled sickle . . .

For every get-at-the-root-of-the-matter gardener who pries out dandelions or pays a bounty to someone else to separate them from their native habitat . . .

There must be a nature lover somewhere who honestly likes these cheerful yellow flowers, the white seedheads that ensue and the coarse-leaved plants that underlie the dandelions hardihood.

Perhaps all of us should give more compassionate thought than we do to the dandelion. Its place on earth is assured, after all, while all else is transitory. And it never was the dandelion's idea to be a pest.

It did not ask for lawns to be planted around it, for parks, golf courses, parkways and flower gardens to intrude on its domain. It was doing very well before any of these so-called improvements were made and, barring a special kind of catastrophe it will be flourishing on this earth when all the improvements have been erased by time.

Somewhere the dandelion must be appreciated . . .

If only the pesky thing would be brought under cultivation so it would turn sickly and delicate and become rare it could be appreciated everywhere. It is appreciated everywhere now by very small children, who do not understand why too much of a good thing can be pestiferous. No lovelier bouquets are assembled than a dozen or so dandelion blooms clutched in the fist of a child about so high.

A Heap Of Trouble

Flagrant violations of laws against the throwing of trash and rubbish along rural roads not only mar the mid-spring beauties of nature, but constitute a serious public health hazard as well.

Throughout the district are offensive sites where the lazy and the careless have chosen to fling refuse instead of disposing of it properly.

Many people become angry each year at this thoughtlessness, but only a few do anything about it. Among them is a Hammondsville group which has warned that so far as possible license numbers of autos at illegal dump sites in that area will be reported and the owners cited if investigation proves the law has been violated.

It is difficult for regular law enforcement agencies to make constant patrols of such areas, since more urgent duties too often keep them elsewhere. But willingness of residents to report offenders could help bring a halt to the undesirable practice.

The Hammondsville experiment will be well worth watching by those with a similar problem.

Name of dog. Age of dog. Age of owner. Has dog a tendency to leave yard? Has it been sufficiently frightened by an early encounter with an auto or does it still think it can lick 'em all?

Does pooch know when to stop eating or will it take meals as fast as owner can dish them out? Does canine chew rugs, books, slippers, paper pieplates, etc? Has it learned to stop eating linoleum?

Has dog ever been rejected by any insurance company for reasons other than it bit the agent?

Has it had following ailments: Illusion it can tackle locomotives. Chronic belligerence toward Great Danes. Susceptibility to owners belief it can be taught to walk up a ladder. Dizzy spells due to frenzied chasing of tail in belief there is a woodpecker instead of a flea on it. When was dog last hospitalized and did its owner survive the veterinarian's bill?

WE MUST PHONE our insurance man at once. Our pooch chases army tanks and eats rubber doormats between meals. Hopes Fading For Labor Reform

By Victor Riesel

That old undisciplined "autonomy" of unions has been the "autonomy to steal, the autonomy to rob, the autonomy to murder," one of the nation's policy-making labor chiefs told a small group in his tan-motif, ultra-modern inner office the other day.

Victor Riesel

These were the words of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union leader, peppery David Dubinsky, whose organization has more than a quarter of a billion dollars in cash, bonds and 29 buildings.

Dubinsky was briefing the small group before flying to Miami Beach for the ILGU's 30th national convention. He and his union have long backed government action to crack the mobs which have moved inside labor.

"The labor movement, the AFL-CIO, cannot clean up by itself," Dubinsky, literally shouted as though the sounds might in some way waft down Broadway and into the streets of the garment jungle where the mob still runs.

"We have no subpena power. That's a very important weapon. Without it the record shows that the unions cannot take care of themselves in the fight on the underworld. Under the Senate bill, the secretary of labor has subpena power. He can dig into records. That can do it."

THE EXPLOSIVE Dubinsky, leader of the 442,901 unionists (80 per cent of them women) who make the nation's fashions for ladies, did not shout any enthusiasm for the Senate's labor reform bill. Neither he nor his colleagues on the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee nor those in the central labor command known as the executive council want the Kennedy-Ervin bill passed if Sen. McClellan's bill of labor rights stays in it.

This is apparent not only from the report of Dubinsky and his officers to the Garment Workers convention now in session. It is obvious to the scores of labor officials who have been calling the national AFL-CIO headquarters. They want the word on whether to fight the bill or support it publicly. They are being told to wait.

Wait for what? — Wait for the private analysis now being made of the bill by the AFL-CIO's three top attorneys. They are Arthur Goldberg, Al Woll and Tom Harris. Each has been assigned a section. Each will report first to prexy George Meany.

Meany will then submit it to the executive council session in Washington beginning May 18.

THE REPORTS will rip into sections of the bill. The word is that labor pressure will then be brought on the House of Representatives to "soften" the proposed reform law. During open hearings the bill will be attacked by Meany — and by that austere pro-consul of the American working man, John L. Lewis.

But it will be hard, indeed, to get a softer version out of the House. Sen. McClellan, now fighting mad, is consulting regularly with Rep. Graham Barden, head of the House Labor Committee.

The Arkansan was infuriated by testimony before his own committee this past week which revealed that a goon had murdered one Boilermakers Union business agent and cut another wide open. McClellan is determined to fight for his bill of rights section.

Rep. Barden, who has been keeping close tabs on the textile civil war in his home state town of Henderson, is working with McClellan in rounding up House votes for a tougher bill. "Judge" Barden has promised the gentleman from Arkansas that the bill of rights stays in.

This means that the labor chiefs may well condemn the law.

If so, they will pressure their Senate friends into voting against a final version — the one that will come out of the Senate-House conference.

Thus, there could well be no reform law this year after all — and after all the exposures.

Recovery Upsets Politics

By Jay G. Hayden

WASHINGTON

Remarkably optimistic statistics on U.S. employment, just released, are sure to affect political decisions three ways.

They knock into a cocked-hat Mikita Khrushchev's hope that a sharp economic decline in the United States could further his Berlin designs.

The home political outlook has been revolutionized. Whereas the Democrats in last year's election campaign spread gloom and doom with great effect both in important manufacturing sectors and the farm belt, that conception has largely evaporated.

Finally, this economic uplift cannot fail to influence the legislative result of the present Congress, still almost wholly in the making.

Whereas the Democratic leaders started off on a depression key—disputing President Eisenhower's tax-collection estimates as exaggerated and pressing for unemployment, housing and other types of relief—they find themselves in mid-session faced with what could prove one of the biggest booms in U.S. history.

Unemployment declined by 735,000, March to April, to 3,627,000—the lowest since December, 1957.

Employment climbed to 65,012,000, highest for any April in history. The top peak of employment for all time was 67,200,000 in July, 1957.

Average factory earnings rose 63 cents, to $89.87 a week. This compares with $82.59 at the high point of prosperity in 1957.

EVEN IN MARCH the industrial production index of the Federal Reserve Board broke through to a new high of 147, compared with 100 for 1947-48 and 146 for the 1957 pre-recession peak.

Unemployment of three million or less, as found by U.S. government statisticians, is considered evidence of boom.

Employes quit their jobs for many reasons. Many persons are on the move from one job to another. Students flock in and out of the labor forces and so do women for many personal reasons.

During the just ended depression, unemployment has been regional.

In manufacturing, the drop has been largely in durable goods, especially automobiles. There has been acute unemployment in coal mining, mainly because of growing competition of other types of fuel—oil, gas and electricity.

One expert suggests that "the labor force does not seem to be so mobile as it used to be"—meaning that workers are less prompt in looking for new jobs. One reason for that condition obviously is the growth of unemployment insurance. Displaced workers stay where they are and, perhaps, shun other work for fear they will lose out on compensation to which their former jobs entitle them.

Many householders complain of the great lack of people willing to take service jobs—mowing, planting, cleaning, cooking and the like. And farm help has been extremely hard to find throughout the recent depression.

POLITICALLY, the most certain effect of the improved economic outlook is to boost President Eisenhower's chance of balancing the budget.

When the President last January asked for 77 billion dollars of government spending money, to be more than met by increased tax collection, congressional leaders emitted a loud hoot.

Not that they were shocked by the extent of spending. On that side they said Mr. Eisenhower was excessively penurious. The gains in tax collection projected were hailed as far too optimistic.

Particularly, the President prophesied that corporation profits, which averaged 36 billion dollars before taxes in 1958, will reach 48 billion this year. Personal income, he said, would rise from 353 billion in 1958 to 370 billion during 1959. By the end of this year, he predicted, personal income will reach an annual rate of 379 billion.

Gross national product, valued at 437 billion dollars in 1958, he said would average 470 billion for 1959, which means that it may reach a 480 billion level by the end of this year.

If the President is right in these predictions and if Congress holds spending to 77 billion, there may be cash and to spare to meet bills for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

A New Nation

A new nation may be in the making on the southern tip of the Arabian Peninsula.

The Arab rulers of three sultanates, two emirates and a sheikdom in Britain's Aden Protectorate have approved a constitution setting up a Federation of the Arab Emirates of the South. Britain has promised them eventual independence.

Aden's inhabitants are bare-chested tribesmen who wear knee-length blue cotton kilts. They rub vegetable oil and blue dye on their lean chests and arms as a protection against the sun in summer and the cold in winter.

A well-dressed tribesman is a walking arsenal. He carries a rifle and a dagger, kept handy in a silver scabbard. A cartridge belt holds his ammunition. When visiting the Crown Colony of Aden,, he must check his rifle and dagger with the authorities. It may make him feel somewhat undressed, but it reassures the British of his peaceful intentions.

Nuclear Weapon Ban

By David Lawrence

Russian Role In A-Bomb Talks Debated

GENEVA

More important than the four-power conference is another international proceeding which has been going on here for six months and which concerns far more directly the future peace of the world. It's the long drawn out but fateful conference between the Soviet Union and the West over the question of whether the testing of nuclear weapons shall be permanently prohibited by a treaty signed by all nations.

David Lawrence

On its face this means merely stopping the tests but actually it means more—subsequent pressure to ban the use of nuclear weapons altogether in time of war.

The sessions on nuclear tests are for the moment in recess till June 8 because it is impracticable for two conferences to be going on simultaneously, as the foreign ministers cannot possibly give attention to both subjects at the same time. But before the recess was agreed upon, the Russians were moving eagerly and with surprising speed toward agreement on as many articles of the proposed treaty as possible.

The articles remaining, of course, are the big ones and will receive the most careful scrutiny later on, with the chances of an agreement within many months being anybody's guess.

BACK OF ALL THIS, however, is one big and all-pervasive question: Why do the Soviets want an agreement at all?

Are they merely exhibiting that humaneness of spirit which has been so conspicuously absent in their attitude toward other international problems? Are they worried about the possible acquisition of new weapons by Red China and other nations?

If the Soviets already have more missiles than the West and are scientifically ahead of us, as the anti-administration politicians in the United States so often declare, then why do the Russians think we would ever agree to stop testing to get better ones?

Also, what is the real truth about nuclear tests — are they as damaging as has been claimed?

The most reliable information available here is baffling for the expert scientists on the Allied side do not agree. You can find some who say that any "fallout" is dangerous today, others who say it may be dangerous 10 or a 100 years from now and still others who say there is far more danger from natural radioactivity that has nothing to do with nuclear tests.

Granting that tests are mildly injurious—and the Soviets have been responsible for initiating the worldwide alarm about tests, aided and abetted by some Communist stooges in the scientific field in nearly every county—the question remains as to what the Soviets hope to gain by the proposed ban.

THE REAL ANSWER probably is that the Soviets feel they have enough wapons now to devastate any enemy country and they are well aware that the United States has three times more than would be necessary to destroy all of the Soviet Union. It becomes urgent, therefore, to keep any other nations, especially the irresponsible ones, from getting nuclear weapons.

Can the information be kept secret? There is reason to believe it can be. It is significant that the Soviets do not send as much nuclear data to their own satellites as the United States does to its allies. Maybe they don't trust them. Unquestionably a serious purpose is behind the whole Soviet desire to restrict testing by any nation.

There are, to be sure, many motivating considerations. Thus, the expense of testing is enormous. The British are feeling this already but the Russians see it as an even bigger burden upon them.

If, therefore, there are enough weapons to destroy an enemy, why make any more? That's the Soviet argument and it looks plausible on its face.

ONCE TESTS are banned, will the use of the weapons themselves be outlawed? If so, the Soviet Union can dominate Europe with its "conventional" forces and, if the propaganda to compel the withdrawal of large bodies of NATO troops from the continent of Europe and to bring about the abandoment of military bases for American forces is successful, then the Kremlin will have achieved, in effect, a miliary victory without firing a shot.

What will the United States Senate do about any agreement signed at Geneva? Will it be ratified and will the American people debate it extensively before making up their minds? Accepting it will involve a calculated risk—that the Soviets will never cheat. For all the inspection systems devised probably will not be foolproof. There are some advantages, it is argued, in getting into Soviet areas to inspect what's going on.

Nobody really thinks the inspectors will be able to see everything or that, if a crisis comes, they will be able to communicate anything to their home governments.

Also, if the Russians violate the agreement, will the Western powers have the temerity to denounce a treaty on nuclear testing, especially in the face of a worldwide opinion that has been frightened by fallout propaganda? Small wonder the conference on nuclear tests has lasted six months already and may go on for months — or even years.

Seaway Without Ports

By Alan Emory

The first flush over the St. Lawrence Seaway has nearly hidden the fact that most Great Lakes and St. Lawrence ports in this country won't be able to take fully loaded big ships for several years.

The prospect is for at least a decade of waiting before Congress and the White House grant funds needed to deepen the ports so they can accommodate ships of 25½-foot draft.

The Budget Bureau has now received 11 out of 15 preliminary reports from the Army Engineers calling for work to bring U.S harbors up to seaway capability. The reports stemmed from an $835,000 survey the engineers did of all Lakes and St. Lawrence ports and their potential.

The reports recommend, $63,662,300 in federal money entirely aside from local contributions declared essential and these are considerable.

A bipartisan New York State congressional panel has started action to find out what can be done for harbors in that state.

INFORMED INTERESTS, both in the engineers and the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., indicate considerable harbor work will be required to make the Seaway anything like the boon to this country it has been painted.

In about five years, these sources agree, 85 per cent of the ships using the Seaway will be in the 5,000-to-7,500-ton class with drafts of 21 feet or less when half loaded.

The final engineer report on Seaway ports is not due until next year but the preliminary reports are coming out all the time.

A major stumbling block is the Great Lakes connecting channels project, which will cost at least $146,500,000. This project aims at deepening the channels to 27 feet—Seaway controlling depth—by 1962.

At the rate Congress has been providing money and the administration asking for it, the more likely completion time is 1963 or 1964. This year, for example, the administration sought only 23 million dollars while the Army Engineers said they could use 29 million.

The channels would carry the Seaway from Toledo to Duluth.

RIGHT NOW the only Lakes port that can handle Seaway ships is Detroit and that is largely due to the Detroit River. To accommodate loaded Seaway vessels a harbor would need a controlling depth of 25½ feet. Harbors like Buffalo, Chicago, Duluth-Superior, Cleveland, Toledo, Erie and Milwaukee vary between 20 and 24 feet.

This means ships would have to come in with only a partial cargo.

According to the reports so far issued by the Army Engineers, the federal government must spend these amounts to give the harbors Seaway capability:

Ashland, Wis., $1,495,000; Ashtabula, Ohio, $4,077,000; Buffalo, $2,352,000; Calumet (actually Chicago harbor), $5,240,000; Cleveland, $2,486,000; Duluth-Superior, $4,877,000; Erie, Pa., $1,729,000; Indiana Harbor, Ind., $986,000; Lorain, Ohio, $19,213,000; Marquette Harbor, Mich, $236,000; Presque Isle, Mich., $215,300; Sandusky, Ohio, $5,800,000; Toledo, $14,684,000, and Two Harbors, Minn., $162,000.

For an inkling of local contribution requirements to help match the federal outlay, the engineers figure area residents will have to kick in $1,248,000 for Buffalo, $2,455,000 for Lorain, $980,000 for Ashtabula, $2,869,000 for Cleveland, $1,320,000 for Toledo and $728,500 for Duluth-Superior.

Even further complications are on the horizon, because, by 1975 experts figure the present seaway facilities will be insufficient to take care of the traffic and they will have to be "twinned," or duplicated.

Clam broth seasoned with catsup, celery salt and Worcestershire sauce makes an excellent before-dinner cocktail.

Khrushchev Couldn't Be That Charming

An official chokeup over a possible visit to the United States by Premier Khrushchev is not diplomatic but psychological.

The mighty minds in government who overtax themselves by deep worrying about the state of U.S. public opinion are skittish because there is no more outgoing personality in international relations today than Nikita Khrushchev.

Even people who don't like him have had to admit that he is his own best public relations expert. He can grin, caper, spoof, kiss babies and come on with the common touch as if he had been coached by an expert in public affability.

There is a gnawing, horrible dread in deep-worry circles that Khrushchev might do three or four times as well as Anastas Mikoyan did last January, which was very well indeed. That is to say that not once during his three-week stay in this country did the Soviet Union's first deputy premier use a gun or a club on any innocent bystander. Though not noted for jollity, Mikoyan managed to leave the impression that he enjoyed his visit and would like to come back sometime.

KHRUSHCHEV is noted for affability, on the other hand. When he sets out to be charming, he can be very charmiing indeed. He is as far from the popular image of a Communist dictator as anyone could be — and this is what worries the deep worriers.

They are doubtful that the American people can distinguish between the man and what he stands for. These are the same worriers who fret lest people who enjoy the Bolshoi Ballet on its current tour may fail to remember Hungary — lest frequent contact with Russian political figures lead to acceptance of the Communist credo.

The number of the worriers is not inconsiderable. The concern felt in high places about a possible visist by Khrushchev reflects widespread concern among Americans.

BUT TO KNOW the Russians better as individuals is not to accept their ideas — far from it. Americans are not as susceptible as all that to personal charm.

Khrushchev as a visitor in this country would have about as much effect on American ideas about Communism as Vice President Nixon's forthcoming visit to Moscow will have on Russian ideas about capitalism. Mr. Nixon can be every bit as charming as Deputy Premier Mikoyan was. He would be as charming as President Eisenhower, himself, and not convert anyone in Russia to capitalism.

The deep worriers are underestimating the collective good sense of the American people. They frequently do.

A Slight Handicap

Dead Pilots Give No Indications

Civil Aeronautics Board investigators are busy again. A no-survivors accident has caused a plane to explode in flight. Lightning is a possibility.

But no one survived to talk about it. Dead pilots can give no indication of what may have happened in the split second before the end.

A slow-moving ship's movements and all conditions abroad are reported continuously in a log book. Trains have recording devices to show their rate of speed. Test pilots relate each move they make in the performance of their jobs.

It would be wholly impractical, of course, to require pilots and co-pilots on scheduled airlines to keep a voice log of their flights. It would be out of the question for that third man who has won the right to go along for the ride on the new jet planes to serve as the talker.

It would be ridiculous to take down everything either on a recording machine in a fireproof container in the plane, or to keep a recording machine attached to an open circuit, so any spontaneous statement or exclamation could be taken down.

Pilots would object. Management would object. But there would be no objection by the millions of people who believe the era of flight will not have come to maturity until there are no more unexplainable accidents. Until that happens, aviation will still be in its formative years.

In the not too distant future, man will begin to fly through space, away from the earth and its field of gravity. Everything he sees, hears or even senses will be recorded. In the meantime, will there continue to be a blank about things seen, heard and sensed in the few seconds before accidents in airplanes — accidents that can be explained only by guesswork, surmise and deduction while salvagers are picking up the pieces and morticians are preparing the broken bodies for burial?

It Never Was The Dandelion's Idea

For every thousand householders who relish the sight of dandelion blooms disintegrating under the punishment of a rotary mower . . .

For every bushwhacker who decapitates dandelions with a long-handled sickle . . .

For every get-at-the-root-of-the-matter gardener who pries out dandelions or pays a bounty to someone else to separate them from their native habitat . . .

There must be a nature lover somewhere who honestly likes these cheerful yellow flowers, the white seedheads that ensue and the coarse-leaved plants that underlie the dandelions hardihood.

Perhaps all of us should give more compassionate thought than we do to the dandelion. Its place on earth is assured, after all, while all else is transitory. And it never was the dandelion's idea to be a pest.

It did not ask for lawns to be planted around it, for parks, golf courses, parkways and flower gardens to intrude on its domain. It was doing very well before any of these so-called improvements were made and, barring a special kind of catastrophe it will be flourishing on this earth when all the improvements have been erased by time.

Somewhere the dandelion must be appreciated . . .

If only the pesky thing would be brought under cultivation so it would turn sickly and delicate and become rare it could be appreciated everywhere. It is appreciated everywhere now by very small children, who do not understand why too much of a good thing can be pestiferous. No lovelier bouquets are assembled than a dozen or so dandelion blooms clutched in the fist of a child about so high.

A Heap Of Trouble

Flagrant violations of laws against the throwing of trash and rubbish along rural roads not only mar the mid-spring beauties of nature, but constitute a serious public health hazard as well.

Throughout the district are offensive sites where the lazy and the careless have chosen to fling refuse instead of disposing of it properly.

Many people become angry each year at this thoughtlessness, but only a few do anything about it. Among them is a Hammondsville group which has warned that so far as possible license numbers of autos at illegal dump sites in that area will be reported and the owners cited if investigation proves the law has been violated.

It is difficult for regular law enforcement agencies to make constant patrols of such areas, since more urgent duties too often keep them elsewhere. But willingness of residents to report offenders could help bring a halt to the undesirable practice.

The Hammondsville experiment will be well worth watching by those with a similar problem.

Hopes Fading For Labor Reform

By Victor Riesel

That old undisciplined "autonomy" of unions has been the "autonomy to steal, the autonomy to rob, the autonomy to murder," one of the nation's policy-making labor chiefs told a small group in his tan-motif, ultra-modern inner office the other day.

Victor Riesel

These were the words of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union leader, peppery David Dubinsky, whose organization has more than a quarter of a billion dollars in cash, bonds and 29 buildings.

Dubinsky was briefing the small group before flying to Miami Beach for the ILGU's 30th national convention. He and his union have long backed government action to crack the mobs which have moved inside labor.

"The labor movement, the AFL-CIO, cannot clean up by itself," Dubinsky, literally shouted as though the sounds might in some way waft down Broadway and into the streets of the garment jungle where the mob still runs.

"We have no subpena power. That's a very important weapon. Without it the record shows that the unions cannot take care of themselves in the fight on the underworld. Under the Senate bill, the secretary of labor has subpena power. He can dig into records. That can do it."

THE EXPLOSIVE Dubinsky, leader of the 442,901 unionists (80 per cent of them women) who make the nation's fashions for ladies, did not shout any enthusiasm for the Senate's labor reform bill. Neither he nor his colleagues on the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee nor those in the central labor command known as the executive council want the Kennedy-Ervin bill passed if Sen. McClellan's bill of labor rights stays in it.

This is apparent not only from the report of Dubinsky and his officers to the Garment Workers convention now in session. It is obvious to the scores of labor officials who have been calling the national AFL-CIO headquarters. They want the word on whether to fight the bill or support it publicly. They are being told to wait.

Wait for what? — Wait for the private analysis now being made of the bill by the AFL-CIO's three top attorneys. They are Arthur Goldberg, Al Woll and Tom Harris. Each has been assigned a section. Each will report first to prexy George Meany.

Meany will then submit it to the executive council session in Washington beginning May 18.

THE REPORTS will rip into sections of the bill. The word is that labor pressure will then be brought on the House of Representatives to "soften" the proposed reform law. During open hearings the bill will be attacked by Meany — and by that austere pro-consul of the American working man, John L. Lewis.

But it will be hard, indeed, to get a softer version out of the House. Sen. McClellan, now fighting mad, is consulting regularly with Rep. Graham Barden, head of the House Labor Committee.

The Arkansan was infuriated by testimony before his own committee this past week which revealed that a goon had murdered one Boilermakers Union business agent and cut another wide open. McClellan is determined to fight for his bill of rights section.

Rep. Barden, who has been keeping close tabs on the textile civil war in his home state town of Henderson, is working with McClellan in rounding up House votes for a tougher bill. "Judge" Barden has promised the gentleman from Arkansas that the bill of rights stays in.

This means that the labor chiefs may well condemn the law.

If so, they will pressure their Senate friends into voting against a final version — the one that will come out of the Senate-House conference.

Thus, there could well be no reform law this year after all — and after all the exposures.

Recovery Upsets Politics

By Jay G. Hayden

WASHINGTON

Remarkably optimistic statistics on U.S. employment, just released, are sure to affect political decisions three ways.

They knock into a cocked-hat Mikita Khrushchev's hope that a sharp economic decline in the United States could further his Berlin designs.

The home political outlook has been revolutionized. Whereas the Democrats in last year's election campaign spread gloom and doom with great effect both in important manufacturing sectors and the farm belt, that conception has largely evaporated.

Finally, this economic uplift cannot fail to influence the legislative result of the present Congress, still almost wholly in the making.

Whereas the Democratic leaders started off on a depression key—disputing President Eisenhower's tax-collection estimates as exaggerated and pressing for unemployment, housing and other types of relief—they find themselves in mid-session faced with what could prove one of the biggest booms in U.S. history.

Unemployment declined by 735,000, March to April, to 3,627,000—the lowest since December, 1957.

Employment climbed to 65,012,000, highest for any April in history. The top peak of employment for all time was 67,200,000 in July, 1957.

Average factory earnings rose 63 cents, to $89.87 a week. This compares with $82.59 at the high point of prosperity in 1957.

EVEN IN MARCH the industrial production index of the Federal Reserve Board broke through to a new high of 147, compared with 100 for 1947-48 and 146 for the 1957 pre-recession peak.

Unemployment of three million or less, as found by U.S. government statisticians, is considered evidence of boom.

Employes quit their jobs for many reasons. Many persons are on the move from one job to another. Students flock in and out of the labor forces and so do women for many personal reasons.

During the just ended depression, unemployment has been regional.

In manufacturing, the drop has been largely in durable goods, especially automobiles. There has been acute unemployment in coal mining, mainly because of growing competition of other types of fuel—oil, gas and electricity.

One expert suggests that "the labor force does not seem to be so mobile as it used to be"—meaning that workers are less prompt in looking for new jobs. One reason for that condition obviously is the growth of unemployment insurance. Displaced workers stay where they are and, perhaps, shun other work for fear they will lose out on compensation to which their former jobs entitle them.

Many householders complain of the great lack of people willing to take service jobs—mowing, planting, cleaning, cooking and the like. And farm help has been extremely hard to find throughout the recent depression.

POLITICALLY, the most certain effect of the improved economic outlook is to boost President Eisenhower's chance of balancing the budget.

When the President last January asked for 77 billion dollars of government spending money, to be more than met by increased tax collection, congressional leaders emitted a loud hoot.

Not that they were shocked by the extent of spending. On that side they said Mr. Eisenhower was excessively penurious. The gains in tax collection projected were hailed as far too optimistic.

Particularly, the President prophesied that corporation profits, which averaged 36 billion dollars before taxes in 1958, will reach 48 billion this year. Personal income, he said, would rise from 353 billion in 1958 to 370 billion during 1959. By the end of this year, he predicted, personal income will reach an annual rate of 379 billion.

Gross national product, valued at 437 billion dollars in 1958, he said would average 470 billion for 1959, which means that it may reach a 480 billion level by the end of this year.

If the President is right in these predictions and if Congress holds spending to 77 billion, there may be cash and to spare to meet bills for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

A New Nation

A new nation may be in the making on the southern tip of the Arabian Peninsula.

The Arab rulers of three sultanates, two emirates and a sheikdom in Britain's Aden Protectorate have approved a constitution setting up a Federation of the Arab Emirates of the South. Britain has promised them eventual independence.

Aden's inhabitants are bare-chested tribesmen who wear knee-length blue cotton kilts. They rub vegetable oil and blue dye on their lean chests and arms as a protection against the sun in summer and the cold in winter.

A well-dressed tribesman is a walking arsenal. He carries a rifle and a dagger, kept handy in a silver scabbard. A cartridge belt holds his ammunition. When visiting the Crown Colony of Aden, he must check his rifle and dagger with the authorities. It may make him feel somewhat undressed, but it reassures the British of his peaceful intentions.

Nuclear Weapon Ban

By David Lawrence

Russian Role In A-Bomb Talks Debated

GENEVA

More important than the four-power conference is another international proceeding which has been going on here for six months and which concerns far more directly the future peace of the world. It's the long drawn out but fateful conference between the Soviet Union and the West over the question of whether the testing of nuclear weapons shall be permanently prohibited by a treaty signed by all nations.

David Lawrence

On its face this means merely stopping the tests but actually it means more—subsequent pressure to ban the use of nuclear weapons altogether in time of war.

The sessions on nuclear tests are for the moment in recess till June 8 because it is impracticable for two conferences to be going on simultaneously, as the foreign ministers cannot possibly give attention to both subjects at the same time. But before the recess was agreed upon, the Russians were moving eagerly and with surprising speed toward agreement on as many articles of the proposed treaty as possible.

The articles remaining, of course, are the big ones and will receive the most careful scrutiny later on, with the chances of an agreement within many months being anybody's guess.

BACK OF ALL THIS, however, is one big and all-pervasive question: Why do the Soviets want an agreement at all?

Are they merely exhibiting that humaneness of spirit which has been so conspicuously absent in their attitude toward other international problems? Are they worried about the possible acquisition of new weapons by Red China and other nations?

If the Soviets already have more missiles than the West and are scientifically ahead of us, as the anti-administration politicians in the United States so often declare, then why do the Russians think we would ever agree to stop testing to get better ones?

Also, what is the real truth about nuclear tests — are they as damaging as has been claimed?

The most reliable information available here is baffling for the expert scientists on the Allied side do not agree. You can find some who say that any "fallout" is dangerous today, others who say it may be dangerous 10 or a 100 years from now and still others who say there is far more danger from natural radioactivity that has nothing to do with nuclear tests.

Granting that tests are mildly injurious—and the Soviets have been responsible for initiating the worldwide alarm about tests, aided and abetted by some Communist stooges in the scientific field in nearly every county—the question remains as to what the Soviets hope to gain by the proposed ban.

THE REAL ANSWER probably is that the Soviets feel they have enough wapons now to devastate any enemy country and they are well aware that the United States has three times more than would be necessary to destroy all of the Soviet Union. It becomes urgent, therefore, to keep any other nations, especially the irresponsible ones, from getting nuclear weapons.

Can the information be kept secret? There is reason to believe it can be. It is significant that the Soviets do not send as much nuclear data to their own satellites as the United States does to its allies. Maybe they don't trust them. Unquestionably a serious purpose is behind the whole Soviet desire to restrict testing by any nation.

There are, to be sure, many motivating considerations. Thus, the expense of testing is enormous. The British are feeling this already but the Russians see it as an even bigger burden upon them.

If, therefore, there are enough weapons to destroy an enemy, why make any more? That's the Soviet argument and it looks plausible on its face.

ONCE TESTS are banned, will the use of the weapons themselves be outlawed? If so, the Soviet Union can dominate Europe with its "conventional" forces and, if the propaganda to compel the withdrawal of large bodies of NATO troops from the continent of Europe and to bring about the abandoment of military bases for American forces is successful, then the Kremlin will have achieved, in effect, a miliary victory without firing a shot.

What will the United States Senate do about any agreement signed at Geneva? Will it be ratified and will the American people debate it extensively before making up their minds? Accepting it will involve a calculated risk—that the Soviets will never cheat. For all the inspection systems devised probably will not be foolproof. There are some advantages, it is argued, in getting into Soviet areas to inspect what's going on.

Nobody really thinks the inspectors will be able to see everything or that, if a crisis comes, they will be able to communicate anything to their home governments.

Also, if the Russians violate the agreement, will the Western powers have the temerity to denounce a treaty on nuclear testing, especially in the face of a worldwide opinion that has been frightened by fallout propaganda? Small wonder the conference on nuclear tests has lasted six months already and may go on for months — or even years.

Seaway Without Ports

By Alan Emory

The first flush over the St. Lawrence Seaway has nearly hidden the fact that most Great Lakes and St. Lawrence ports in this country won't be able to take fully loaded big ships for several years.

The prospect is for at least a decade of waiting before Congress and the White House grant funds needed to deepen the ports so they can accommodate ships of 25½-foot draft.

The Budget Bureau has now received 11 out of 15 preliminary reports from the Army Engineers calling for work to bring U.S harbors up to seaway capability. The reports stemmed from an $835,000 survey the engineers did of all Lakes and St. Lawrence ports and their potential.

The reports recommend, $63,662,300 in federal money entirely aside from local contributions declared essential and these are considerable.

A bipartisan New York State congressional panel has started action to find out what can be done for harbors in that state.

INFORMED INTERESTS, both in the engineers and the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., indicate considerable harbor work will be required to make the Seaway anything like the boon to this country it has been painted.

In about five years, these sources agree, 85 per cent of the ships using the Seaway will be in the 5,000-to-7,500-ton class with drafts of 21 feet or less when half loaded.

The final engineer report on Seaway ports is not due until next year but the preliminary reports are coming out all the time.

A major stumbling block is the Great Lakes connecting channels project, which will cost at least $146,500,000. This project aims at deepening the channels to 27 feet—Seaway controlling depth—by 1962.

At the rate Congress has been providing money and the administration asking for it, the more likely completion time is 1963 or 1964. This year, for example, the administration sought only 23 million dollars while the Army Engineers said they could use 29 million.

The channels would carry the Seaway from Toledo to Duluth.

RIGHT NOW the only Lakes port that can handle Seaway ships is Detroit and that is largely due to the Detroit River. To accommodate loaded Seaway vessels a harbor would need a controlling depth of 25½ feet. Harbors like Buffalo, Chicago, Duluth-Superior, Cleveland, Toledo, Erie and Milwaukee vary between 20 and 24 feet.

This means ships would have to come in with only a partial cargo.

According to the reports so far issued by the Army Engineers, the federal government must spend these amounts to give the harbors Seaway capability:

Ashland, Wis., $1,495,000; Ashtabula, Ohio, $4,077,000; Buffalo, $2,352,000; Calumet (actually Chicago harbor), $5,240,000; Cleveland, $2,486,000; Duluth-Superior, $4,877,000; Erie, Pa., $1,729,000; Indiana Harbor, Ind., $986,000; Lorain, Ohio, $19,213,000; Marquette Harbor, Mich, $236,000; Presque Isle, Mich., $215,300; Sandusky, Ohio, $5,800,000; Toledo, $14,684,000, and Two Harbors, Minn., $162,000.

For an inkling of local contribution requirements to help match the federal outlay, the engineers figure area residents will have to kick in $1,248,000 for Buffalo, $2,455,000 for Lorain, $980,000 for Ashtabula, $2,869,000 for Cleveland, $1,320,000 for Toledo and $728,500 for Duluth-Superior.

Even further complications are on the horizon, because, by 1975 experts figure the present seaway facilities will be insufficient to take care of the traffic and they will have to be "twinned," or duplicated.

Clam broth seasoned with catsup, celery salt and Worcestershire sauce makes an excellent before-dinner cocktail.

Hancock PTA To Hear State Association Aide

DR. CORMA MOWREY
She'll Be At New Cumberland.

Dr. Corma A. Mowrey, director of the Division of Professional Services with the West Virginia Education Association, will be principal speaker at a dinner meeting of the Hancock County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations Tuesday night at 6 in Swaney Memorial Library in New Cumberland.

Miss Mowrey has served as president of the National Education Association, the West Virginia Education Association, and the West Virginia Classroom Teachers Association.

She was co-chairman of the education commmittee of President Eisenhower's Person - to - Person Program for World Understanding in 1956. In 1955, she was U.S. representative to Germany for a four-week study tour as guest of the West Germany Federal Government.

A veteran of 21 years teaching in West Virginia schools, she was the states "Daughter of the Year in 1956 and was NEA representative to the World Organization of Teaching Professional Assembly in Ottawa, Canada, and on Malta in the early 1950's.

A member of the Board of Trustees of Salem College, she holds a doctorate degree from the school and a doctor of humanities degree from West Virginia State College, both honorary. She received her master's degree from Duke University.

Dr. Mowrey resides in Clarksburg where she has taught seven years at Victory High School.

Following her address, council officers elected recently will be installed by Mrs. Everett Harless, past president.

Reservations for the dinner must be made by Friday by contacting presidents of local PTA units.

'Steel' Editor Cites World Market Losses

CLEVELAND (AP)—The editor of "Steel" magazine says the losses in world markets by the American steel industry "is a most important issue in the current steel wage negotiations."

Walter J. Campbell told some 200 persons at a dinner of the First Industrial Management Club Wednesday night that foreign competition already has "taken a hefty slice of business" from steel producers in this country.

He said he believes the United Steelworkers Union will strike this summer for six to nine weeks, that the union will wind up with a wage package of six to 11 cents more an hour and that steel prices will be raised $2 to $4 a ton.

Republic Steel Plans 375 Million Expansion

CLEVELAND (AP) — Republic Steel Corp. announced today it will install a new 56-inch hot strip mill at its Warren, Ohio, plant, at a cost of more than 45 million dollars.

This will be the first major step in the 375-million-dollar modernization and expansion program announced Wednesday.

Trucker Hurt In Job Mishap

A trucker injured at work was admitted Wednesday to City Hospital where three adults and a youngster were treated yesterday after separate mishaps.

Frank Gardner, 28, of W. 4th St. is in "fairly good" condition today with a knee injury suffered when a wooden skid fell from a truck and hit his leg. He is employed by the Ken Buckley Cartage.

Mrs. Orma Cunningham of Chester Ave., Wellsville, was treated last night for a laceration of the elbow suffered in a fall on an electric fan at home.

Patricia Cain, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cain, 104 Leonard St., received a cut of the forehead in a fall on a stone.

Virginia Abbott, 28, of 204 East Alley, an employe of the New York Restaurant, suffered a laceration of the right hand on a glass at work.

Walter Vinglass, 32, of Gallitzin, Pa., an employe of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., received a cut of the left hand while at work.

Flag Staff At City Hall Gets New Coat Of Paint

An annual refurbishing in preparation for Memorial Day ceremonies, the tall flag staff in front of City Hall was given a new coat of paint today by Central Station firemen.

Assistant Chief Alfred VanDyne applied the new coat of aluminum colored paint, working off the department's hook-and-ladder rig. Chief Charles Bryan operated the ladder controls.

The tall metal staff generally is repainted each year in time for Memorial Day ceremonies. Meanwhile, Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross said a huge new flag has been purchased to fly from the staff.

To Cut Milk Penny

CLEVELAND (AP)—The price of milk here will be reduced one cent a quart, effective Friday. The price cut was announced by major dairies Wednesday night following an announcement by the Lawson Milk Co. of Cuyahoga Falls of a similar reduction for milk sold in its 200 retail stores in northeastern Ohio.

Township Firemen Enroll 4 Members

Four new members were accepted at a meeting of the Ohio Township volunteer fire department Monday evening in the fire hall.

They include Joseph Bassar, Benny Tiberio, Floyd Kidder and C. L. Kocher. Paul Rice Jr. president, presided.

The carnival committee, with Michael Haydin as chairman, reported plans are progressing satisfactorily. The carnival will be held Tuesday through Saturday.

Firemen decided that the Ohio Township Hot Stove League and Brighton Township may participate in the carnival with certain reservations.

4 Autoists Forfeit In Lisbon Mayor Court

LISBON — Four motorists forfeited bonds totaling $50 in Mayor John Todd's court Wednesday when they failed to appear for hearings. They were:

Carlos P. Deemer, 64, of 906 Montgomery Ave., East Liverpool, $15 for speeding; John J. Kokos, 38, of Toronto, $15 for crossing the yellow line; John E. Balanik Jr., 18, of East Cleveland, $10 for passing on the crest of hill, and Edward H. Heim, 61, of N. Market St., $15 for reckless operation. He was involved in an accident Tuesday evening. Heim was cited by village police, the others by the State Highway Patrol.

Dinner Meeting's Tuesday

Hancock PTA To Hear State Association Aide

DR. CORMA MOWREY
She'll Be At New Cumberland.

Dr. Corma A. Mowrey, director of the Division of Professional Services with the West Virginia Education Association, will be principal speaker at a dinner meeting of the Hancock County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations Tuesday night at 6 in Swaney Memorial Library in New Cumberland.

Miss Mowrey has served as president of the National Education Association, the West Virginia Education Association, and the West Virginia Classroom Teachers Association.

She was co-chairman of the education commmittee of President Eisenhower's Person - to - Person Program for World Understanding in 1956. In 1955, she was U.S. representative to Germany for a four-week study tour as guest of the West Germany Federal Government.

A veteran of 21 years teaching in West Virginia schools, she was the states "Daughter of the Year in 1956 and was NEA representative to the World Organization of Teaching Professional Assembly in Ottawa, Canada, and on Malta in the early 1950's.

A member of the Board of Trustees of Salem College, she holds a doctorate degree from the school and a doctor of humanities degree from West Virginia State College, both honorary. She received her master's degree from Duke University.

Dr. Mowrey resides in Clarksburg where she has taught seven years at Victory High School.

Following her address, council officers elected recently will be installed by Mrs. Everett Harless, past president.

Reservations for the dinner must be made by Friday by contacting presidents of local PTA units.

'Steel' Editor Cites World Market Losses

CLEVELAND (AP)—The editor of "Steel" magazine says the losses in world markets by the American steel industry "is a most important issue in the current steel wage negotiations."

Walter J. Campbell told some 200 persons at a dinner of the First Industrial Management Club Wednesday night that foreign competition already has "taken a hefty slice of business" from steel producers in this country.

He said he believes the United Steelworkers Union will strike this summer for six to nine weeks, that the union will wind up with a wage package of six to 11 cents more an hour and that steel prices will be raised $2 to $4 a ton.

Girl Scout Group At Midland Discusses Plans On Day Camp

Day Camp plans were discussed at the Midland District Girl Scout Committee meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Woodrow Smith of Fairview Rd.

Mrs. George Mastrovich, Day Camp chairman, submitted the following committee:

Mrs. Francis Crytzer, camp director; Mrs. Frank Pillar, assistant; Mrs. John Petrosky, food chairman, with Mrs. Jack Tippett, Mrs. John Petchel and Mrs. Robert Lewis, assistants; Mrs. George Myers, Mrs. Keith Davis, Mrs. Robert Madish in charge of equipment, and Mrs. John Martin, training chairman, assisted by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Elmer Gifford.

On recommendation of the camp transportation committee, the group will use the Beaver Valley Motor Coach Co. to transport the girls and adults. The camp will be held at Brittain farm June 22, 23, 24 and 26, from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Hours June 25 will be 2 to 8 p. m.

Neighborhood chairmen were requested to submit camp registration and fees to Mrs. Crytzer by May 29.

Outdoor camp training sessions will be held at the farm on May 26 from 9:30 a. m. to 2 p. m. One was held Wednesday.

Mrs. Martin reported 94 adults attended the Beaver County Juliette Low tea held at the Steelworkers Union Hall March 20. Leftover cookies baked by the leaders, assistant leaders and committee members, were sent to the Betty Jane Rest Home in East Liverpool and others were sold to adults attending the tea.

After expenses, a total of $7.29 remained, and the group decided to use this to purchase material for an international flag to be presented to the Beaver County Council on behalf of the Midland District for the farm.

Mrs. Richard Carr, field director, announced dates for the summer basic training course at the farm, Aug. 11, 13, 18 and 29 from 9:30 a. m. to 3 p. m. She announced that registration lists for established camping are filling up quickly. Established camp will be held July 20-25 and July 27-Aug. 1.

Mrs. Woodrow Smith, neighborhood chairman, reported 90 cases of Girl Scout cookies were sold in her area.

Mrs. Matthew Ordich, acting district chairman, reported 14 girls, under the supervision of Mrs. Lester Trainer, began working on their tenderfoot requirements when the troop met in the scout room in the 7th St. School Tuesday afternoon.

The next district committee meeting will be June 15 at 8 p. m., the place to be announced.

First Aid Station Planned On Route Of Parade May 30

Members of the Women's Civil Defense Council will help staff first aid stations along the route of the Memorial Day parade Saturday, May 30, members decided Wednesday night at a meeting in City Hall.

Members of the women's group who are registered nurses will help staff several points that will be established for emergency treatment of any spectators or marchers who are injured or require other attention. The CD group also will be represented in the line of march.

A report was presented on a six-week series of "home preparedness" classes which opened last Wednesday at the Salvation Army Citadel. Following the meeting at City Hall, Mrs. Luella Myers and Mrs. Mildred Springer conducted the second lesson in the series. It included a Red Cross film on first aid and a CD movie, "Food for Thought."

The third lesson will be held May 20, with Al Rutecki of Lisbon CD headquarters speaking on emergency supplies and evacuation. He will be assisted by Mrs. Ethel Gleckner, Mrs. Evelyn Balser and Mrs. Vera Brereton, members of the women's group.

The next meeting of the CD Council will be June 10. Plans are under way to attend the annual statewide meeting of CD units June 13 at Columbus.

60 At Girl Scout Leaders Dinner In Parochial School

The annual Girl Scout leaders dinner held Tuesday night at St. Aloysius Parochial School was attended by approximately 60. Leaders from Newell, Calcutta, Wellsville and East Liverpool participated.

Tables were decorated with bouquets of spring flowers and streamers in the Girl Scout colors. Mrs. William Ogilvie gave the invocation.

Mrs. Don Ogilvie and Miss Ellen Monroe spoke on future activities.

Mrs. Bee Henderson recognized the dinner committee — Mrs. Mary Kozora and Mrs. Kathryn Bryan, co-chairmen, and Mrs. Betty Coie, Mrs. Betty Edgell, Mrs. Ruth Beaver, Mrs. Janet Carnes, Mrs. Viola Williams and Mrs. Eileen McKinnon.

Entertainment was furnished by the John Celli junior students who played several instrumental selections, assisted by Pete Sgro and Cecil Boyd.

The meeting ended with square dancing under the supervision of Sam Parks.

Members of the Altar and Rosary Society of the St. Aloysius Catholic Church served the dinner.

Sal Maglie has been signed to a scouting contract by the St. Louis Cardinals.

Family Night Dinner Honors New Grace Church Members

Members who were welcomed into the Grace United Presbyterian Church in East End the past year, were honored at the annual Family Night coverdish dinner Wednesday in the social rooms.

Also recognized was the youngest person present, Billy Cowan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Cowan, and the oldest person, Mrs. Anna Young, a charter member of the church.

The Rev. Russell C. Owens, introduced the speaker, the Rev. Vance Yarnelle of the Bethel (Pa.) Presbyterian Church, who showed slides of his recent trip to Alaska, which was sponsored by the Board of National Missions.

The program theme was "Know Your Neighbor—Alaska."

Mr. and Mrs. Cowan were in charge of the family devotion period and Jack Barrett led group singing, accompanied by Mrs. Owens. The pastor gave the invocation and benediction.

The committee chairmen were, tables, Mrs. Lille Clemensen; kitchen, Mrs. Agnes Barrett, and program, Mrs. Phyllis Conley.

Out-of-town guests were Everett Irvin and Robert Logan of the Four Mile United Presbyterian Church of Ohio Township.

The dinner was co-sponsored by the Women's Association and deacons of the church.

Mishap Hurts Boy Pursuing Ball In Street

A 12-year-old East Liverpool boy suffered the loss of two front teeth and minor abrasions when struck by an auto Wednesday at 6:38 p. m. as he pursued a ball into the street, police reported.

Jerry Wheeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Wheeler, 408 Almont St., was struck while at Lincoln Ave. and Almont St. by a 1951 sedan operated by Thomas H. Bevington, 28, of 338 Ogden St., officers said. The impact damaged the left headlight of the auto, officers reported.

Two of the boy's upper front teeth were broken off. He also was treated at City Hospital for abrasions of the chin and right elbow. A cruiser took the boy to the hospital. He is a seventh grade student at Westgate School.

Bevington told police the boy ran into the street chasing a ball. He said he applied the brakes but was unable to halt in time to avoid hitting the boy.

A collision at Pennsylvania and Maryland Aves. Wednesday at 12:02 p. m. involved a 1953 station wagon driven by Lois E. Snyder, 2135 Pennsylvania Ave., and a 1949 convertible driven by Charles D. Crooms, 21, of 413 Putnam St., police said. The left rear fender of the woman's auto was scraped. She told police she was turning left off Pennsylvania onto Maryland while Crooms was backing from the curb on the main thoroughfare, also intending to swing into Maryland Ave.

County Judge Speaks For Father-Son Event

Judge Louis Tobin of Columbiana County Probate and Juvenile Court spoke at the father and son social of the United Lutheran Church Men of the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church Wednesday night. Approximately 65 attended.

Business was conducted by Roy Cooper, president, Stanford Ramsey was in charge of devotions and Frank V. Shone led group singing. The Rev. Wilbert T. Wilson, played several piano selections.

A movie, "Big Ten Football Highlights," provided by Ohio State University, was screened.

The next meeting will be June 10 at the church.

Michael Hall Offered Harvard Scholarship

Michael D. Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Hall of Park Way Ext. and Beaver Local High School valedictorian, has been awarded a four-year scholarship to Harvard University, school officials reported today.

Hall, who plans to study medicine, was among 2,200 students in America who applied for the limited $1,900-yearly scholarships, according to George VanHorne, executive head of the school district. The youth has until June 1 to accept.

Hall is Senior Class president and a varsity athlete in addition to earning top scholastic honors.

Deaths and Funerals

Death Claims Woman At 84

LISBON — Mrs. Agnes Hayes Reese, 84, of Logtown died at the Parsons' Rest Home in Salineville Wednesday evening after an illness of nine months.

Born Feb. 22, 1875, in Youngstown, a daughter of James and Jean Anderson McDonald, she lived in this vicinity most of her life. She was a member of the First Christian Church.

Mrs. Reese is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Annie Davis of Solon; two sons, Raymond Reese of Lisbon, and James Reese of Cleveland; two sisters, Mrs. Nettie Laurrell of Farrell, Pa., and Mrs. Emma Franzer of Shinston, W. Va., a brother, Jack McDonald of Leetonia and 8 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Private services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the Eells-Legett Funeral Home by the Rev. Tom Hammerton, pastor of the Methodist Church. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Mrs. George Saxelby

Mrs. Marguerite Harris Saxelby of San Mateo, Calif., a former teacher at the Irondale School, died Tuesday at her home after a long illness.

She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harris. She also was a former school principal in California.

She leaves her husband, George Saxelby at home, and a stepson, George Saxelby Jr. of California.

Services will be held Monday at 1:30 p. m. at the D. B. Johnson Funeral Home at Bedford, Ohio, with burial in Crown Hill Cemetery there.

Paul Burbick

Services for Paul Burbick of Struthers, formerly of East Liverpool, will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by the Rev. Carl Beigley of the Calvary Methodist Church. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

60 At Girl Scout Leaders Dinner In Parochial School

The annual Girl Scout leaders dinner held Tuesday night at St. Aloysius Parochial School was attended by approximately 60. Leaders from Newell, Calcutta, Wellsville and East Liverpool participated.

Tables were decorated with bouquets of spring flowers and streamers in the Girl Scout colors. Mrs. William Ogilvie gave the invocation.

Mrs. Don Ogilvie and Miss Ellen Monroe spoke on future activities.

Mrs. Bee Henderson recognized the dinner committee — Mrs. Mary Kozora and Mrs. Kathryn Bryan, co-chairmen, and Mrs. Betty Coie, Mrs. Betty Edgell, Mrs. Ruth Beaver, Mrs. Janet Carnes, Mrs. Viola Williams and Mrs. Eileen McKinnon.

Entertainment was furnished by the John Celli junior students who played several instrumental selections, assisted by Pete Sgro and Cecil Boyd.

The meeting ended with square dancing under the supervision of Sam Parks.

Members of the Altar and Rosary Society of the St. Aloysius Catholic Church served the dinner.

Sal Maglie has been signed to a scouting contract by the St. Louis Cardinals.

Family Night Dinner Honors New Grace Church Members

Members who were welcomed into the Grace United Presbyterian Church in East End the past year, were honored at the annual Family Night coverdish dinner Wednesday in the social rooms.

Also recognized was the youngest person present, Billy Cowan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Cowan, and the oldest person, Mrs. Anna Young, a charter member of the church.

The Rev. Russell C. Owens, introduced the speaker, the Rev. Vance Yarnelle of the Bethel (Pa.) Presbyterian Church, who showed slides of his recent trip to Alaska, which was sponsored by the Board of National Missions.

The program theme was "Know Your Neighbor—Alaska."

Mr. and Mrs. Cowan were in charge of the family devotion period and Jack Barrett led group singing, accompanied by Mrs. Owens. The pastor gave the invocation and benediction.

The committee chairmen were, tables, Mrs. Lille Clemensen; kitchen, Mrs. Agnes Barrett, and program, Mrs. Phyllis Conley.

Out-of-town guests were Everett Irvin and Robert Logan of the Four Mile United Presbyterian Church of Ohio Township.

The dinner was co-sponsored by the Women's Association and deacons of the church.

Mishap Hurts Boy Pursuing Ball In Street

A 12-year-old East Liverpool boy suffered the loss of two front teeth and minor abrasions when struck by an auto Wednesday at 6:38 p. m. as he pursued a ball into the street, police reported.

Jerry Wheeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Wheeler, 408 Almont St., was struck while at Lincoln Ave. and Almont St. by a 1951 sedan operated by Thomas H. Bevington, 28, of 338 Ogden St., officers said. The impact damaged the left headlight of the auto, officers reported.

Two of the boy's upper front teeth were broken off. He also was treated at City Hospital for abrasions of the chin and right elbow. A cruiser took the boy to the hospital. He is a seventh grade student at Westgate School.

Bevington told police the boy ran into the street chasing a ball. He said he applied the brakes but was unable to halt in time to avoid hitting the boy.

A collision at Pennsylvania and Maryland Aves. Wednesday at 12:02 p. m. involved a 1953 station wagon driven by Lois E. Snyder, 2135 Pennsylvania Ave., and a 1949 convertible driven by Charles D. Crooms, 21, of 413 Putnam St., police said. The left rear fender of the woman's auto was scraped. She told police she was turning left off Pennsylvania onto Maryland while Crooms was backing from the curb on the main thoroughfare, also intending to swing into Maryland Ave.

Miss Carol Ann Costello, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roy C. Costello, 1941 St. Clair Ave., became the bride of Paul Manning Leary Jr. of Norwich, Conn., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Leary of Covington, Ky., Saturday morning at High Nuptial Mass in the Church of St. Ignatius Loyola, on Park Ave., New York, with Fr. Raymond OPray officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a Bianchi gown of white peau de soie, featuring a fitted bodice with a neckline embroidered in seed pearls. The full skirt was highlighted with a chapel train and her tulle veil was attached to a Juliet cap of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and ivy.

Mrs. Richard L. Carson o Rutherford, N. J., and Miss Bonnie Costello, sisters of the bride, were the matron and maid of honor. They wore princess-style gowns of daffodil yellow peau de soie and carried bouquets of yellow daisies and ivy.

James T. Daly of Norwich served as best man and ushers were Richard L. Carson, brother-in-law of the bride, Thomas J. Tully of Cincinnati and Luis A. Gallop of Riverside, Conn.

A breakfast and reception followed in the Victorian Suite of the Carlyle Hotel.

The bride is a graduate of Laurel School in Shaker Heights and of Mount Holyoke College at South Hadley, Mass. She is a medical research technician with the Rockefeller Institute in New York City.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Xavier University at Cincinnati and served as a lieutenant in the Army Signal Corps. He is the New York representative for the Plastic Wire & Cable Corp. of Jewett City, Conn.

After a Southern honeymoon, the couple will reside at Stamford, Conn.

Miss Elizabeth Leary and Daniel Leary, aunt and uncle of the bridegroom, gave the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at the Stanhope Hotel in New York.

Miss Carol Ann Costello, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roy C. Costello, 1941 St. Clair Ave., became the bride of Paul Manning Leary Jr. of Norwich, Conn., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Leary of Covington, Ky., Saturday morning at High Nuptial Mass in the Church of St. Ignatius Loyola, on Park Ave., New York, with Fr. Raymond OPray officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a Bianchi gown of white peau de soie, featuring a fitted bodice with a neckline embroidered in seed pearls. The full skirt was highlighted with a chapel train and her tulle veil was attached to a Juliet cap of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and ivy.

Mrs. Richard L. Carson o Rutherford, N. J., and Miss Bonnie Costello, sisters of the bride, were the matron and maid of honor. They wore princess-style gowns of daffodil yellow peau de soie and carried bouquets of yellow daisies and ivy.

James T. Daly of Norwich served as best man and ushers were Richard L. Carson, brother-in-law of the bride, Thomas J. Tully of Cincinnati and Luis A. Gallop of Riverside, Conn.

A breakfast and reception followed in the Victorian Suite of the Carlyle Hotel.

The bride is a graduate of Laurel School in Shaker Heights and of Mount Holyoke College at South Hadley, Mass. She is a medical research technician with the Rockefeller Institute in New York City.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Xavier University at Cincinnati and served as a lieutenant in the Army Signal Corps. He is the New York representative for the Plastic Wire & Cable Corp. of Jewett City, Conn.

After a Southern honeymoon, the couple will reside at Stamford, Conn.

Miss Elizabeth Leary and Daniel Leary, aunt and uncle of the bridegroom, gave the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at the Stanhope Hotel in New York.

Darlene Hall, Carl E. Bryan Wed In Rites At Parsonage

MRS. C. E. BRYAN
Bride Of Nuptials April 28.

Miss Darlene Jo Hall, daughter of Joseph Hall of Koppel and Mrs. Evelyn Scott of Raccoon Township, became the bride of Carl E. Bryan of Lawrenceville, Chester, on April 28 at the parsonage of the North Branch Presbyterian Church near Shippingport.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Bryan of Lawrenceville.

The Rev. Harold Bowman officiated.

The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white nylon lace over taffeta and white accessories with a pink carnation wrist corsage.

Miss Marla Rae Neuber, maid of honor, wore a pink nylon lace gown with pink accessories and a white carnation wrist corsage. Jack L. Brewer of East Liverpool was best man.

A wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sweeney of near Shippingport, where a four-tiered wedding cake centered the table and while tapers and spring flowers decorated the room.

About 75 attended a reception at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Bargerstock, of Raccoon Township. Refreshments were served by the bride's mother, Mrs. Bargerstock and other aides.

The bride is a 1957 graduate of Hopewell Township High School.

Her husband, a 1955 graduate of Chester High School, served four years in the Air Force — including two years in Japan — and was discharged as an airman first class. He is employed at the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland.

They are residing in Raccoon Township following a brief wedding trip.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Buttons Emerges As An Actor

Comedy hasn't occupied much of Red Buttons' professional time since he got a full Nelson on moviedom's big prize — an Oscar. His gratitude to Hollywood for rescuing him from the bottom of the barrel has been evidenced by his continuing association with the cinema — and Buttons feels the same kinship to poignant drama, as viewers will note in the next installment of "Playhouse 90" tonight.

Marie Torre

The occasion will be one of Buttons' rare television appearances since "Sayonara," and the character he'll play will be about as funny as Hamlet.

"This has, for me, more then overtones of 'Sayonara,'" says Buttons in honey-tongued exaltation, but he used to talk that way even when he was a comedian.

"It's a warm, tender story about two shy, lonely people — me and Diana Lynn — brought together through a friendship club. It was written by one of the best writers in the business, Reginald Rose, and the director is in the same class, Alex Segal."

Judging from what Buttons says, "A Marriage of Strangers" is potentially Emmy Award stuff, and his enthusiasm ran over as he digested the prospects.

-:-

"NOW WOULDN'T that be the crowning glory!" he exclaimed "It's too crazy to think about, but wouldn't that be a thrill- Imagine winning the highest honor from a medium that virtually dispossessed me. And to win it as an actor!"

His voice has the ring of personal pride each time he dwells on acting talk, and the tone is genuine.

"As a student of acting," says Buttons, "I'm just beginning. It's a lifetime study. You never stop learning how to act.

"You read about actors like Eli Wallach and Marlon Brando attending dramatic classes, and you realize that the really good actors never stop learning. It's only the stupid ones who think they know all there is to know."

Buttons neatly has managed to repress his comedy genes, while pursuing the dramatic course, and we wondered aloud whether he'd welcome a pie-in-the-face, or some reasonable facsimile, for a change of pace.

"Oh," he rejoined, "I get my comedy kicks. I'm a card on the studio sets between shots, and socially I'm the life of the party."

WE'RE REMINDED by Chrysler Corp. that Fred Astaire, whose first TV performance won an unprecedented number of Emmy Awards (nine in all) will be on telvision in another special in the fall of '59. . . .

This year's broadcasting story: Television revenues, up 7.2 per cent; radio revenues, up 2.5 per cent. This, at least, is the way the National Association of Broadcasters sizes up the economic picture for 1959. . . .

One of the TV executives operating a camera since the beginning of the NABET strike against NBC was asked: "Now that all you big shots are working the shows, who's running the network?" Replied the executive: "The secretaries. Haven't they always?" . . .

Unless he fails to get what he deserves, Ernie Kovacs will collect three salaries from NBC for his May 22 special. He'll be the writer, producer and star.

-:-

THE BIG NEWS out of ABC last week was that Elvis Presley had been contracted for annual appearances over a period of "a few years," but the report was news to Presley's manager, Col. Tom Parker.

"I made only a one-shot commitment for Elvis at ABC," said Parker, who ought to know because he signed the papers.

Parker left town still confused about the origin of the erroneous report, but his reasons for seeking a special TV appearance for Presley after his discharge are pretty clear.

"Originally," Parker explained, "we planned for Elvis to do a closed-circuit performance that was to be beamed to movie theaters around the country for a price.

"After we thought about it, it just didn't seem fair to the fans who are dying to see him. It didn't seem fair to make young people pay an admission price. It was for them that we decided to go on free TV."

Hancock ASC Aids 78 Farms

Hancock County farmers used Agricultural Conservation Program cost-sharing to establish conservation practices on 78 farms in 1958, C. C. Herron of Pughtown, chairman of the County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee said today.

This was an inerease of 11 farms from 1957. The farms participating in the ASC in 1958 contained 33 per cent of the farmland and 32 per cent of the cropland in the county.

Agricultural conservation program assistance for conservation cost-sharing last year totaled $7,988 in the county, Herron pointed out. Federal cost-shares averaged about 50 per cent of the cost of practices when all costs are considered.

"This public investment of $7,988 resulted in county farmers applying more than $15,976 worth of conservation on their land for conserving soil, water and forest resources as security for the future," Herron said.

The chief conservation accomplishments by farmers in the county included 430 acres new or improved permanent grass or legume cover, 17 acres in tree planting and 2 conservation dams for storing water.

Other members of the ASC committee include Donald E. Allison of Chester R. D. 1, Carl R. Allison of New Cumberland R. D. 1, and Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent. Mrs. Norma Murray is office manager.

McKinley Group Has Music Event

A musical program was presented by the city schools' instrumental department and fifth and sixth grade choirs Tuesday evening at a meeting of the McKinley Home and School Association.

Gene Lindauere directed the band and Mrs. Ann S. Kerr the choirs. Miss Jo Ann Vannoy was accompanist.

George Fletcher, president, presided and Mrs. Manavelle Cooley, first grade teacher, led devotions.

Miss Helen Allison, principal, announced that sixth grade students would make their annual trip to Pittsburgh yesterday. She thanked officers and members for their work during the year.

A letter from the Child Counseling Center thanked the association for its fund contribution. The sixth grade won the attendance award.

Refreshments were served by the program committee. Next meeting will be in the fall.

Junior High Principal To Attend Institute

Carl Pelini, junior high principal at Westgate Junior High School, has been selected to attend a six-week guidance and counseling training institute next month at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Supt. Ralph W. Betts said Pelini was chosen to represent the school system by the project on guidance and motivation of superior and talented students of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The institute, planned June 22-Aug. 1, will be attended by counselors from project schools in the 19 states comprising the North Central area.

The major purpose of the institute is to extend the professional competence of the counselors through an intensive study, adaptation and evaluation of procedures for the guidance and motivation of students.

Dr. Frank Endicott of Northwestern University is director.

Vacations Due 5,458 Pupils

A total of 5,458 high school and grade pupils in the Columbiana County school system await their summer vacation, with the 16 school buildings in the county system to suspend by May 29.

Some 402 eighth graders will enter high school next fall. A breakdown shows 149 will graduate at Beaver Local, 62 at Fairfield-New Waterford, 12 at Franklin Local will go to Salineville along with 39 from Salineville, 12 from Wayne will enter Lisbon High School; 11 at Fairview and 14 from No. 16 will go to Wellsville, 16 from Highlandtown will go to Salineville and Wellsville and 87 will enter United Local High School from their eighth grade.

Seventy-three seniors in Beaver Local High School will graduate May 29, 52 at Fairfield-New Waterford and 53 at United Local May 28 and 46 at Salineville May 26.

These will be the first graduating class at Beaver Local and United Local high schools, both having operated only four years.

Geneva's Seniors Will Hear Talk By Rev. R. J. Lamont

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. — The Rev. Robert J. Lamont, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh, will be the commencement speaker at Geneva College.

He will address the Geneva seniors at graduation exercises June 2 at Reeves Stadium. About 150 students will receive diplomas.

The 10th pastor of the 2,500-member church, Dr. Lamont is a graduate of Maryville (Tenn.) College. He received a bachelor's degree in theology from Mt. Airy Lutheran Seminary, a doctor's degree from the Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary in Philadelphia, a doctor of divinity degree from Maryville and a doctor of theology degree from Waynesburg College.

Since coming to Pittsburgh, Dr. Lamont has conducted the morning services every Sunday over radio station KDKA.

He served as national missionary in Tennessee prior to his enrolling at Princeton and while attending the seminary was student assistant at the Olney Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia.

In 1943 he became minister of the Presbyterian Church at Darby and he later held a similar position at the Narberth Presbyterian Church.

No Recounts Requested When Deadline Passes

Although two party contests in the May 5 primaries were decided by slim margins, no requests for recounts were filed with the County Election Board before the deadline Tuesday, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, said.

Kenneth Leishman won by a 6-vote margin over Mayor Karl Lindner of Salineville in a Republican battle for the village mayoralty nomination. A 3-vote margin separated Aguin Bowling and Ancel Moore in a GOP race for the First Ward Council nomination in Wellsville.

Bowling received 63 and Moore was given 60. The tabulations were confirmed when the Election Board completed an official canvass of returns last Thursday. Law says recounts must be requested within five days after the official count is certified.

Irondale Student Gets Ohio U. Debate Award

Ronald Eugene Stewart of Irondale R. D. 1 and Anna Jeanette Domanski of Leetonia R. D. 1 were among 200 Ohio University students recognized at the recent annual honors convocation.

Stewart was a joint recipient of a debate award and Miss Domanski was presented an Interdomitory Council individual scholarship award.

Stewart is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stewart of near Pine Grove Ridge.

You get solid footing...

"JOIN THE CIRCLE OF SAFETY...CHECK YOUR CAR...CHECK YOUR DRIVING...CHECK ACCIDENTS."

...in a road-hugging Wide-Track Pontiac!

You control this car with a vivid sense of security, a new sense of balance. It has a steadier stance because it has a wider track. Its wheels are five inches farther apart. You cling to curves and corners with much less lean and sway. You drive with a feeling of confidence, security, complete control. This is without a doubt the easiest handling automobile you could possibly choose. Wide-Track design does not widen the car—only the stance. It's the big reason Pontiac is now first in sales in its price class.

PONTIAC! AMERICA'S NUMBER (1) ROAD CAR

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS

Dotted lines show conventional wheel positions. Pontiac's wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car itself. Pontiac hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sway and lean are considerably reduced, ride is smoother, steadier.

Buttons Emerges As An Actor

Comedy hasn't occupied much of Red Buttons' professional time since he got a full Nelson on moviedom's big prize — an Oscar. His gratitude to Hollywood for rescuing him from the bottom of the barrel has been evidenced by his continuing association with the cinema — and Buttons feels the same kinship to poignant drama, as viewers will note in the next installment of "Playhouse 90" tonight.

Marie Torre

The occasion will be one of Buttons' rare television appearances since "Sayonara," and the character he'll play will be about as funny as Hamlet.

"This has, for me, more then overtones of 'Sayonara,'" says Buttons in honey-tongued exaltation; but he used to talk that way even when he was a comedian.

"It's a warm, tender story about two shy, lonely people — me and Diana Lynn — brought together through a friendship club. It was written by one of the best writers in the business, Reginald Rose, and the director is in the same class, Alex Segal."

Judging from what Buttons says, "A Marriage of Strangers" is potentially Emmy Award stuff, and his enthusiasm ran over as he digested the prospects.

-:-

"NOW WOULDN'T that be the crowning glory!" he exclaimed "It's too crazy to think about, but wouldn't that be a thrill- Imagine winning the highest honor from a medium that virtually dispossessed me. And to win it as an actor!"

His voice has the ring of personal pride each time he dwells on acting talk, and the tone is genuine.

"As a student of acting," says Buttons, "I'm just beginning. It's a lifetime study. You never stop learning how to act.

"You read about actors like Eli Wallach and Marlon Brando attending dramatic classes, and you realize that the really good actors never stop learning. It's only the stupid ones who think they know all there is to know."

Buttons neatly has managed to repress his comedy genes, while pursuing the dramatic course, and we wondered aloud whether he'd welcome a pie-in-the-face, or some reasonable facsimile, for a change of pace.

"Oh," he rejoined, "I get my comedy kicks. I'm a card on the studio sets between shots, and socially I'm the life of the party."

WE'RE REMINDED by Chrysler Corp. that Fred Astaire, whose first TV performance won an unprecedented number of Emmy Awards (nine in all) will be on telvision in another special in the fall of '59. . . .

This year's broadcasting story: Television revenues, up 7.2 per cent; radio revenues, up 2.5 per cent. This, at least, is the way the National Association of Broadcasters sizes up the economic picture for 1959. . . .

One of the TV executives operating a camera since the beginning of the NABET strike against NBC was asked: "Now that all you big shots are working the shows, who's running the network?" Replied the executive: "The secretaries. Haven't they always?" . . .

Unless he fails to get what he deserves, Ernie Kovacs will collect three salaries from NBC for his May 22 special. He'll be the writer, producer and star.

-:-

THE BIG NEWS out of ABC last week was that Elvis Presley had been contracted for annual appearances over a period of "a few years," but the report was news to Presley's manager, Col. Tom Parker.

"I made only a one-shot commitment for Elvis at ABC," said Parker, who ought to know because he signed the papers.

Parker left town still confused about the origin of the erroneous report, but his reasons for seeking a special TV appearance for Presley after his discharge are pretty clear.

"Originally," Parker explained, "we planned for Elvis to do a closed-circuit performance that was to be beamed to movie theaters around the country for a price.

"After we thought about it, it just didn't seem fair to the fans who are dying to see him. It didn't seem fair to make young people pay an admission price. It was for them that we decided to go on free TV."

Hancock ASC Aids 78 Farms

Hancock County farmers used Agricultural Conservation Program cost-sharing to establish conservation practices on 78 farms in 1958, C. C. Herron of Pughtown, chairman of the County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee said today.

This was an inerease of 11 farms from 1957. The farms participating in the ASC in 1958 contained 33 per cent of the farmland and 32 per cent of the cropland in the county.

Agricultural conservation program assistance for conservation cost-sharing last year totaled $7,988 in the county, Herron pointed out. Federal cost-shares averaged about 50 per cent of the cost of practices when all costs are considered.

"This public investment of $7,988 resulted in county farmers applying more than $15,976 worth of conservation on their land for conserving soil, water and forest resources as security for the future," Herron said.

The chief conservation accomplishments by farmers in the county included 430 acres new or improved permanent grass or legume cover, 17 acres in tree planting and 2 conservation dams for storing water.

Other members of the ASC committee include Donald E. Allison of Chester R. D. 1, Carl R. Allison of New Cumberland R. D. 1, and Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent. Mrs. Norma Murray is office manager.

McKinley Group Has Music Event

A musical program was presented by the city schools' instrumental department and fifth and sixth grade choirs Tuesday evening at a meeting of the McKinley Home and School Association.

Gene Lindauere directed the band and Mrs. Ann S. Kerr the choirs. Miss Jo Ann Vannoy was accompanist.

George Fletcher, president, presided and Mrs. Manavelle Cooley, first grade teacher, led devotions.

Miss Helen Allison, principal, announced that sixth grade students would make their annual trip to Pittsburgh yesterday. She thanked officers and members for their work during the year.

A letter from the Child Counseling Center thanked the association for its fund contribution. The sixth grade won the attendance award.

Refreshments were served by the program committee. Next meeting will be in the fall.

Junior High Principal To Attend Institute

Carl Pelini, junior high principal at Westgate Junior High School, has been selected to attend a six-week guidance and counseling training institute next month at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Supt. Ralph W. Betts said Pelini was chosen to represent the school system by the project on guidance and motivation of superior and talented students of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The institute, planned June 22-Aug. 1, will be attended by counselors from project schools in the 19 states comprising the North Central area.

The major purpose of the institute is to extend the professional competence of the counselors through an intensive study, adaptation and evaluation of procedures for the guidance and motivation of students.

Dr. Frank Endicott of Northwestern University is director.

Liverpool's Grangers To Get Traveling Chest

The "traveling chest," a Pomona Grange project in Columbiana County, will be presented by the Clarkson Grange to the Liverpool Township Grange at a meeting Friday night.

Liverpool Township Grange will take the "traveling chest" to the West Point Grange on Friday, May 22. It also will present the program..

Vacations Due 5,458 Pupils

A total of 5,458 high school and grade pupils in the Columbiana County school system await their summer vacation, with the 16 school buildings in the county system to suspend by May 29.

Some 402 eighth graders will enter high school next fall. A breakdown shows 149 will graduate at Beaver Local, 62 at Fairfield-New Waterford, 12 at Franklin Local will go to Salineville along with 39 from Salineville, 12 from Wayne will enter Lisbon High School; 11 at Fairview and 14 from No. 16 will go to Wellsville, 16 from Highlandtown will go to Salineville and Wellsville and 87 will enter United Local High School from their eighth grade.

Seventy-three seniors in Beaver Local High School will graduate May 29, 52 at Fairfield-New Waterford and 53 at United Local May 28 and 46 at Salineville May 26.

These will be the first graduating class at Beaver Local and United Local high schools, both having operated only four years.

Geneva's Seniors Will Hear Talk By Rev. R. J. Lamont

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. — The Rev. Robert J. Lamont, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh, will be the commencement speaker at Geneva College.

He will address the Geneva seniors at graduation exercises June 2 at Reeves Stadium. About 150 students will receive diplomas.

The 10th pastor of the 2,500-member church, Dr. Lamont is a graduate of Maryville (Tenn.) College. He received a bachelor's degree in theology from Mt. Airy Lutheran Seminary, a doctor's degree from the Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary in Philadelphia, a doctor of divinity degree from Maryville and a doctor of theology degree from Waynesburg College.

Since coming to Pittsburgh, Dr. Lamont has conducted the morning services every Sunday over radio station KDKA.

He served as national missionary in Tennessee prior to his enrolling at Princeton and while attending the seminary was student assistant at the Olney Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia.

In 1943 he became minister of the Presbyterian Church at Darby and he later held a similar position at the Narberth Presbyterian Church.

No Recounts Requested When Deadline Passes

Although two party contests in the May 5 primaries were decided by slim margins, no requests for recounts were filed with the County Election Board before the deadline Tuesday, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, said.

Kenneth Leishman won by a 6-vote margin over Mayor Karl Lindner of Salineville in a Republican battle for the village mayoralty nomination. A 3-vote margin separated Aguin Bowling and Ancel Moore in a GOP race for the First Ward Council nomination in Wellsville.

Bowling received 63 and Moore was given 60. The tabulations were confirmed when the Election Board completed an official canvass of returns last Thursday. Law says recounts must be requested within five days after the official count is certified.

Irondale Student Gets Ohio U. Debate Award

Ronald Eugene Stewart of Irondale R. D. 1 and Anna Jeanette Domanski of Leetonia R. D. 1 were among 200 Ohio University students recognized at the recent annual honors convocation.

Stewart was a joint recipient of a debate award and Miss Domanski was presented an Interdomitory Council individual scholarship award.

Stewart is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stewart of near Pine Grove Ridge.

"JOIN THE CIRCLE OF SAFETY...CHECK YOUR CAR...CHECK YOUR DRIVING...CHECK ACCIDENTS."

...in a road-hugging Wide-Track Pontiac!

You control this car with a vivid sense of security, a new sense of balance. It has a steadier stance because it has a wider track. Its wheels are five inches farther apart. You cling to curves and corners with much less lean and sway. You drive with a feeling of confidence, security, complete control. This is without a doubt the easiest handling automobile you could possibly choose. Wide-Track design does not widen the car—only the stance. It's the big reason Pontiac is now first in sales in its price class.

PONTIAC! AMERICA'S NUMBER (1) ROAD CAR

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS

Dotted lines show conventional wheel positions. Pontiac's wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car itself. Pontiac hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sway and lean are considerably reduced, ride is smoother, steadier.

New Members Recognized By First Methodist WSCS

Recognition of new members highlighted the meeting of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church Monday night in the social rooms. Welcomed into membership were:

Mrs. Neva Renouf, Mrs. John Stackhouse, Mrs. William Edgell, Mrs. Daisy McCain, Mrs. Betty Aeschbacker, Mrs. John Bebout, Mrs. Robert Staley, Mrs. William H. Patch and Mrs. Blanche Wilkinson.

Mrs. Theodore Scheffer, membership chairman, and Mrs. Merrill Hall, literature secretary, presented them with copies of "Methodist Woman," "World Outlook" and "Prayer Calendar" religious periodicals.

Mrs. Neil Patchin conducted devotions, using a world globe to illustrate the needs of others. Mrs. D. Finley Wood gave a piano solo, "Savior, Thy Dying Love," and the group hymn was "Alas and Did My Savior Bleed."

Mrs. Gail Richmond and Miss Jessie Henry were in charge of the annual pledge service, presenting a playlet showing use of mission money. Participating were Mrs. Robert Wotring, in Indian costume; Mrs. G. William Brokaw, in nurse's uniform; Mrs. Charles R. Waggoner, African costume; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nelson and daughter, Kimberly, Mr. and Mrs. Gail Richmond and Miss Henry.

Mrs. Herbert Plotts and Mrs. Sidney Bloor sang, "Take My Life" and "Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone," after which members presented their pledge cards.

Mrs. Aaron Eaton, president, opened business with a meditation on stewardship, "Ours to Give."

Mrs. Roy Mountford reported on the new equipment purchased for the church kitchen and Mrs. G. William Brokaw said the children had completed their course of study of missions.

Miss Anna Welch received the jurisdictional credit card for the study course "Isaiah Speaks" taught by Dr. D. Finley Wood, pastor, and a letter of commendation on the group's participation.

Mrs. William Cecil Roush announced Paul Blair, assistant superintendant of schools, will speak for the Family Night youth fellowship coverdish dinner May 24.

Mrs. Paul Pelley was elected delegate to the annual North-East Ohio Conference Tuesday and Wednesday at the First Church of Cambridge.

The sum of $15 was contributed to the Campus Fund. Courses to be taught at the summer conferences include "The Gospel of Luke," "Christ's Mission In Africa," "The Role of the United States in World Affairs" and "The Church's Mission In Town and Country."

Refreshments were served 42 by the Martha Circle.

A maypole with small dolls circling around the pink tapers were used as decorations on the pink fringed tablecloth.

The next meeting will be June 8 at the church with Mrs. Fred Plant as program chairman and Susannah Wesley Circle members as hostesses.

TIRED BUT HAPPY. Twenty-eight Review newsboys returned this morning from a two-day, all-expense paid trip to Niagara Falls where they toured points of interest and also saw the Welland Canal, a part of the St. Lawrence Seaway, where a traffic jam of ships was observed as they waited passage to Great Lakes ports. The carriers won the trip as part of The Review-magazine subscription contest and now are working to earn a trip to a doubleheader baseball game in Pittsburgh on May 24. They were accompanied by William Garren and Joseph Burcham, district circulation managers.

Rogers

Mrs. Anna Wilhelm of East Palestine is visiting Mrs. Richard Sherman while the latter's husband is a patient at Crile Veterans Hospital at Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Low were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ward of New Waterford.

Miss Zoe Thomas of Cleveland was a weekend guest of Mrs. Essie Thomas.

Mrs. Mary Shively spent the weekend with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Braden, of Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Morris and daughters and Mrs. Ruth Cope were Sunday guests of Misses Agnes Cope and Betty Stephens of Lakewood.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morris and son of Lisbon were Sunday guests of Mrs. Ida Morris.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brugh visited her son, Thomas Brugh, a student at Miami University at Oxford, for a Mother's Day program over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lack and daughter of Weirton spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tullis.

Mrs. Ada George was a weekend guest of her daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Nulf, of Youngstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith of Dover and Jessie Fetty of East Liverpool were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morris.

Miss Judy Stacy, who completed a course at Youngstown Business College recently, is employed at the Electrical Furnace Co. at Salem.

Negley

Officers were elected at the meeting of the Mt. Zion Methodist Church Youth Fellowship Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Leona Rogers of Stratton, pastor. They are:

Carol Mellington, president; Janice Sheerer, vice president; Kay Huston, secretary; Nancy Mathews, treasurer; Paul Sheerer, devotional leader, and Joyce Mohr, reporter.

Plans were outlined for a membership campaign with lists prepared on the eligible members of the church.

Sheerer conducted devotions and Miss Rogers was in charge of a Bible crossword puzzle game.

Lunch was served by the hostess.

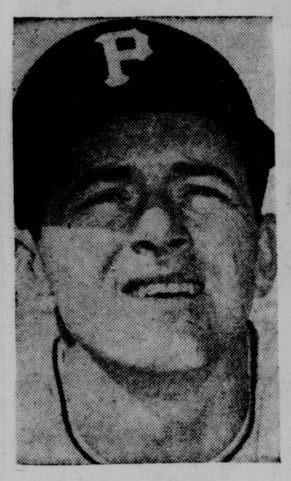
Spahn's 250th Win Puts Braves On Top



DICK STUART
Home Run Was Big Blow.

Stuart's Two-Run Homer Paces Pirates

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

In the four score and three years of major league baseball, only four left-handed pitchers ever had won 250 games. Now Warren Spahn is the fifth.

The southpaw put it away Wednesday night, beating the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2, and hoisting the Milwaukee Braves back into the National League lead.

It was Spahnie's third shot at No. 250. Now 4-4 for the season, he had lost twice since bagging his 249th victory — which also came against the Cards.

Spahn, who joined American League right-hander Early Wynn (253) of the Chicago White Sox as the only active pitchers with 250 victories, was happy, of course, with Wednesday night's decision, but he accepted it like an old pro. "It's just a stepping stone," he said, "to the one I really want — No. 300."

He figures he might reach 300 if he can stay a starting pitcher for at least two or three more years. Now 38 his age-to-victories ratio is in keeping with that of the other four lefties to win 250. Eddie Plank, an American (and Federal) League player, is the top southpaw winner with 325. Lefty Grove won 300. Eppa Rixey (266) and Carl Hubbell (253) are the only National League left-handers who won more than Spahn.

Elsewhere in the NL, San Francisco beat Philadelphia 6-0 on the two-hit pitching of Sam Jones, the Chicago Cubs rapped Cincinnati 10-0 behind Glen Hobbie's three-hitter, and Pittsburgh beat Los Angeles 6-4.

Billy Bruton's eighth-inning home run off Larry Jackson (1-5), who gave up six hits, brought Spahn home a winner at St. Louis. The Cards were blanked on three hits over the last seven innings as Spahn, who fanned six, finished with a seven-hitter and became the 25th pitcher to win 250 in the majors.

Dick Stuart's two-run homer brought the Pirates from behind as they chased Don Drysdale (3-3) with three in the eighth at Los Angeles and slipped the Dodgers a half-game behind Milwaukee. Don Demeter's solo home run had given the Dodgers a 4-3 edge in the sixth against Ron Kline, but reliever Roy Face (5-0) shut them out on three hits over the last three frames.

Jones (3-4) beat the Phils for the fifth time in a row and didn't allow a hit until Willie Jones beat out an infield roller with two out in the seventh. Pinchhitter Gene Freese singled in the eighth for the other hit off Sad Sam, who hit the NL's season high with 12 strikeouts. A three-run homer by Willie Mays high-lighted a five-run Giants' first against former mate Ruben Gomez (0-2).

Ernie Banks' grand-slam homer triggered a seven-run third for the Cubs against Bob Purkey (4-3) as Hobbie (4-3) handed the Reds their third straight loss.

STRIKES, SPARES

By BOB DUFFY

Banquet Circuit At Peak . . .

The banquet circuit is in full swing for East Liverpool's bowling leagues.

Two dinners highlighted things this last week. The Little Bowling League had 40 turn out Saturday night at the Post 374 home when Jack "Fish" Woomer walked off with most of the trophies.

Woomer turned in high game in the league with a 251 total and in that game rolled nine strikes. He also picked up the trophy for high series with a 639.

Gene's Bar was the champion of the Little League while the Owls Club finished as runnerup.

All officers were returned in the Little League, with Nick Turkaly president, "Chicken" Smith secretary and Duke Koerber treasurer.

THE BIG EIGHT League drew 45 to its banquet Monday night at the St. Anthony Club in Midland.

Sara Purton, who has been one of the top bowlers around town for several seasons, picked up most of the money.

Sara led the women in individual averages with a 155, rolled second high single game of 216 and topped the individual high series with a 564.

Other prize winners were Helen Kidder, who turned in the top individual game of 223, and Rose Comparetta with a 211, good for third place in single games.

Pete Chefalo topped the men with a 257, with Joe Presutti second and Jim Wilson third.

Chefalo was the leader in high three games series for men with a 614.

John Clendenning took home the prize for high average among the men with a 178 mark throughout the season.

Tucker Miller of Wellsville was named president of the league for next year, succeeding John McGarey, and Sara Purton was picked for the secretary-treasurer job.

National League Season Ends . . .

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE bowling season came to an end Monday with Owls Club finishing way out in front to win the fourth and final round.

The playoffs will pit Owls Club against Gengarellas, winners of the third round, for the second half championship Tuesday night.

The winner of the Owls Club—Gengarellas, match will meet Reark's Cigars for the league championship.

The doubles event will get under way Monday, with the singles starting the following week.

Top scores rolled on the final night showed Red Pickering with a 237, Kenny Talbott 227 and Pete Chefalo 226.

Members of the team include Dave McFaul, captain, Bill Rager, John Fickle, Dan McCartney and Paul Lucas.

Several members of the High School League traveled to Northfield last Saturday and tied the high school team there 2-2.

Two splits were converted by National League bowlers, with Pete Chefalo picking up the 5-6 and Angelo Cellini the 4-5-7.

In the Titanium League, Harpold made the 9-10, White 3-9-10, Shaw 5-10 and Hudson 5-8-10.

—:—

THE CATS AND DOGS League also closed out its season Sunday, with Melody Lane sweeping the honors for the fourth and final round.

Melody Lane finished with 38 points, while Krosney Jewelers closed in second with 35. Rolloffs for the league championship will begin next week.

Several records fell in the Cats and Dogs League this past week. Pat Black broke the long standing record for the high three-game series when she turned in a 606.

The CIO entry moved into second place among the high team games with an 813 total and dropped Krosney Jewelers in third place with its 796.

Tri-State Appliance and Bee Kay Distributors are tied for the high team game at 819.

The annual banquet for the Cats and Dogs League will be held June 13 at 6:30 at the St. Anthony Club at Midland. For reservations call Wilma Zoellers, secretary, at FU. 5-7575 before June 6. All reservations must be in and paid for by that date.

—:—

SEVERAL local women bowlers rolled in the National tournament at Buffalo last weekend and turned in a team event of 2,022. The high series for the locals was turned in by JoAnn Soldano with a 419.

In the doubles Rose Comparetta and JoAnn Soldano had a 787 and Rose turned in the best effort in the singles with a 506.

Splits picked up in the Cosmo League showed Jane Ann McLain with the 5-10, Lucy Carter 5-8-10, Thelma Gregory the 5-6 twice, Betty Croxall 4-5-7 and Hope Salsberry 4-7-9-10.

—:—

ANOTHER Summer League will be rolling at the Head Pin Alleys in East End. Called the Harmony League, it includes four teams — East Liverpool Barbershop Society, Muzzey's Bar, Milliron Co. and Midway Diner.

Eason Insurance and Travelers are having a close race in the Big Eight Summer League at the Head Pin.

Eason's hold a one point edge over Travelers. Top games this week showed Jack "Fish" Woomer with a 235 and 212 for a 603 series, Chap Davis a 235, Al Sayre turned in a 213 and John Karaffa a 206 and 202 for a 588 series.

Splits picked up in the Big Eight League showed Ross Swogger 5-7-9, Al Sayre 5-10 and Jack Woomer 5-7.

11 Errors Bounce Chester Nine, 5-3

The Chester Panthers literally "kicked" their sectional tournament hopes right out the window when they committed 11 errors which led to a 5-3 victory for Weirton Wednesday at Newell.

The sloppy play in the field gave Weirton five unearned runs.

Chester outhit Weirton, 8-4, but couldn't overcome the poor fielding.

Don Shaw, Chester's ace right-hander, was the victim as he limited Weirton to four safeties. Neiman picked up the victory for Weirton and struck out six Chester batters.

Weirton scored two runs in the second inning and two more in the third and then added one in the fifth.

Coach Dom Amedeo's Panthers bunched all of their scoring into the fourth inning.

Third baseman Pep Daugherty, who committed four errors himself, topped the Panther hitters with three safeties in four trips. One went for a double.

Walker Cup Matches Set For Saturday

By STERLING SLAPPEY

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP) — American Walker Cup golfers play this weekend against a man who is so devoted to the thought of beating them that he has hit 600 practice shots a day since October.

The man is Joe Carr, a 37-year-old Irishman who was born and raised on a golf course in Dublin and who has spent much of his time playing golf ever since.

Carr and Reid Jack, a 35-year-old Scottish insurance man, form the backbone of the British Walker Cup team which meets the Americans under Captain Charles Coe in scotch foursomes Friday and in singles Saturday.

The matches will be over Muirfield's 6,806-yard seaside links.

British hopes of winning the Walker Cup for the first time since 1938 and for only the second time in history are higher this year than ever before.

Carr strung lights across part of the little Sutton course which borders his Dublin home. All winter long, without missing a single night, he made 600 or more practice shots.

The American players are: Thomas Aaron, Gainesville, Ga;. Deane Beman, Silver Spring, Md.; Jack Nicklaus, Columbus, Ohio; Ward Wettlaufer, 23, Buffalo, N. Y.; William Hyndman, Philadelphia; Billy Joe Patton, Morgantown, N.C.; Dr. Frank Taylor, Pomona, Calif.; Coe, Oklahoma City; and Harvie Ward, San Francisco.

Indians Move On To Boston

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cleveland Indians open a two-game series against the Red Sox in Boston Friday night with Jim (Mudcat) Grant doing the pitching. Herb Score will pitch the series finale Saturday afternoon.

Score was scheduled to go against the New York Yankees Wednesday afternoon, but the game was postponed. Manager Joe Gordon said he decided to send Grant to the mound ahead of Score because he feels Herb is more effective in daylight.

The Indians have not played the Red Sox this season. An April 28 game in Cleveland was rained out.

The game postponed Wednesday probably will be played in July. The Indians are idle today.

Bill Lobe joined the Indians here Wednesday and will help out in the bullpen now that the Tribe is carrying only two catchers. Lobe was dropped two years ago after serving as a bullpen coach for six years, but he helped out at the Indians' Daytona Beach, Fla., farm camp the last two springs.

United Gains 12-5 Win Over Beavers In County Play

United Junior High defeated Beaver Local 12-5 in the Columbiana County Junior High softball tournament Wednesday at New Waterford.

United needs one more victory over Beaver Local in the double elimination tourney to cop the county championship.

Curtis and Chestnut paced the winners with a tripple and single each while George Gaydos smacked two triples for the losers.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (AP) —The smallest crowd since baseball returned to Sioux City in 1947 saw the Soos lose to Appleton, 12-8, Wednesday night in the Three I League. Only 95 persons turned out.

Michigan Nine Blasts Detroit U. By 24-10

DETROIT (AP) — This is the centennial of college baseball, and Wednesday Michigan and the University of Detroit set the game back 100 years.

It was a conventional 6-3 game until the eighth inning with Detroit leading. Then Michigan erupted for 21 runs in the final two innings and won 24-10.

The zany game bore considerable resemblance to the first college game between Amherst and Williams in 1859. Amherst won 73-32.

Citation, Nashua and Round Table all have won more than one million dollars.

Hobbie Throws Second Shutout Of Season, 10-0

CHICAGO (AP) — Right-hander Glen Hobbie, the Chicago Cubs sophomore pitching find, moved into exclusive company Wednesday, joining old-timers Warren Spahn and Early Wynn as the major league shutout leaders this season.

The 23-year-old Hobbie, who only three weeks ago tossed a masterful one - hit shutout against St. Louis, blanked Cincinnati in hurling a three-hit, 10-0 victory.

The shutout boosted Hobbie into a tie with 38-year-old Spahn and 39-year-old Wynn with two whitewashings.

While Hobbie led the Cub staff with a 10-6 record last year and was voted Chicago's top rookie, Manager Bob Scheffing relegated him to the bullpen to sharpen his control.

It was Hobbie's improved control that won the Witt, Ill., native a job as a starter this year.

Hobbie had some control trouble Wednesday, tossing 150 pitches, and walking five. He struck out six. The victory gave him a 4-3 record and a respectable 2.88 ERA.

"I was a bit wild," said Hobbie. "But, I'm getting better control. That's what counts. You should have seen me when I first started pitching."

'Youngsters' Try To Break Down 'Old Guard' Snead

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — The "youngsters" in golf will try to break through the "old guard" again in the Sam Snead Festival beginning today.

Only twice in the 12 years of the tournament staged on Snead's home grounds have so-called newcomers been able to outscore the veterans.

That was in 1949 when Cary Middlecoff took it at the age of 28 and Herman Scharlau in 1954 at the age of 33, but making his first professional tour.

Gary Player, not yet 23, made the latest challenge last year when he tied Snead at 264 strokes for the 72 holes. The youngster from South Africa bowed to Snead, however, on the fifth extra hole.

Player is among the 56 pros aiming at Snead for the tournament running through Sunday.

Snead will be the one to beat although he will be 47 later this month.

Dupas Fumes After Losing Nod To Scott

CHICAGO (AP)—"What do you have to do to win a fight?" fumed Ralph Dupas after losing to Charley Scott.

"I'm becoming known as the split decision kid," added the No. 2 welterweight contender. "Del Flanagan, Sugar Hart and now Scott get split decisions over me."

Dupas was a dejected figure after Scott, ranked No. 7, won a split decision in a 10-round nationally televised bout Wednesday night in Chicago Stadium.

Scott, an 8-5 ringside favorite, decked Dupas in the first round. The New Orleans welterweight was up at three and took the mandatory eight count.

Scott, a 22-year-old Philadelphian, had much more steam in his punches than the fast-fisted Dupas, who set a furious pace.

Reds Find 'Road' Rocky At Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—The idea is beginning to be kicked around in the National League that the Cincinnati Reds aren't too tough when they get away from the cozy confines of their own Crosley Field.

A 10-0 defeat by the Chicago Cubs Wednesday brought this comment from one veteran baseball writer:

"It begins to look as if the Reds are tailor-made to fit their own ball park but they'll fall flat on their faces once they get away."

And the statistics seem to bear him out.

The Reds have a 14-13 record but 11 of those games have been won at home. On the road, they have a dismal 3-7 record.

Wednesday's slaughter here wrote another chapter in Bob Purkey's unexplainable futility against the Cubs. Purkey, the Reds' top pitcher last year, didn't win a game from the Cubs in 1958 and he failed to beat them in two starts this year.

For two innings Wednesday it looked as if Purkey might have the jinx halted. Not a single Cub got to base off him in the first two innings.

And then, not only the roof but the entire building caved in on him. Six runs scored and the Redleg righthander still didn't have a man out. The crusher was Ernie Banks' home run with the bases loaded.

That brought on Willard Schmidt in relief and the Cubs added one more run off him before he got the side out.

The Cubs got another run off Jim O'Toole in the seventh and two more in the eighth, also off O'Toole.

The winning pitcher was Glen Hobbie. He allowed Cincinnati only three hits and struck out six while giving five walks.

Joe Nuxhall tries to crack the Reds' road jinx today as he pitches against Chicago's Dave Hillman.

Campbell Drives Boat 260 MPH For Record

CONISTON, England (AP) — Donald Campbell drove his speedboat Bluebird twice over a measured kilometer today for an official record of 260 miles an hour.

The old record, set by Campbell on the same stretch of Coniston Lake last November, was 248.62 m.p.h.

In the first of today's two runs —one in each direction—required by international rules, Campbell's sleek jet-powered craft hit 275 miles an hour.

Coming back over the measured kilometer the British ace was clocked at 245 m.p.h.

Wilt 'The Stilt' Signs For Over $30,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Warriors have signed Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain to a one-year contract for more than $30,000, making him the highest paid player in the history of the National Basketball Assn.

The seven-foot plus Negro ace once played for Philadelphia's Overbrook High School. He was an All-America at Kansas University for two years before quitting after his junior year to join the Harlem Globetrotters last season.

Spahn's 250th Win Puts Braves On Top

DICK STUART
Home Run Was Big Blow.

Stuart's Two-Run Homer Paces Pirates

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

In the four score and three years of major league baseball, only four left-handed pitchers ever had won 250 games. Now Warren Spahn is the fifth.

The southpaw put it away Wednesday night, beating the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2, and hoisting the Milwaukee Braves back into the National League lead.

It was Spahnie's third shot at No. 250. Now 4-4 for the season, he had lost twice since bagging his 249th victory — which also came against the Cards.

Spahn, who joined American League right-hander Early Wynn (253) of the Chicago White Sox as the only active pitchers with 250 victories, was happy, of course, with Wednesday night's decision, but he accepted it like an old pro. "It's just a stepping stone," he said, "to the one I really want — No. 300."

He figures he might reach 300 if he can stay a starting pitcher for at least two or three more years. Now 38 his age-to-victories ratio is in keeping with that of the other four lefties to win 250. Eddie Plank, an American (and Federal) League player, is the top southpaw winner with 325. Lefty Grove won 300. Eppa Rixey (266) and Carl Hubbell (253) are the only National League left-handers who won more than Spahn.

Elsewhere in the NL, San Francisco beat Philadelphia 6-0 on the two-hit pitching of Sam Jones, the Chicago Cubs rapped Cincinnati 10-0 behind Glen Hobbie's three-hitter, and Pittsburgh beat Los Angeles 6-4.

Billy Bruton's eighth-inning home run off Larry Jackson (1-5), who gave up six hits, brought Spahn home a winner at St. Louis. The Cards were blanked on three hits over the last seven innings as Spahn, who fanned six, finished with a seven-hitter and became the 25th pitcher to win 250 in the majors.

Dick Stuart's two-run homer brought the Pirates from behind as they chased Don Drysdale (3-3) with three in the eighth at Los Angeles and slipped the Dodgers a half-game behind Milwaukee. Don Demeter's solo home run had given the Dodgers a 4-3 edge in the sixth against Ron Kline, but reliever Roy Face (5-0) shut them out on three hits over the last three frames.

Sad Sam Throws 2-Hitter At Phils

Jones (3-4) beat the Phils for the fifth time in a row and didn't allow a hit until Willie Jones beat out an infield roller with two out in the seventh. Pinchhitter Gene Freese singled in the eighth for the other hit off Sad Sam, who hit the NL's season high with 12 strikeouts. A three-run homer by Willie Mays high-lighted a five-run Giants' first against former mate Ruben Gomez (0-2).

Ernie Banks' grand-slam homer triggered a seven-run third for the Cubs against Bob Purkey (4-3) as Hobbie (4-3) handed the Reds their third straight loss.

11 Errors Bounce Chester Nine, 5-3

The Chester Panthers literally "kicked" their sectional tournament hopes right out the window when they committed 11 errors which led to a 5-3 victory for Weirton Wednesday at Newell.

The sloppy play in the field gave Weirton five unearned runs.

Chester outhit Weirton, 8-4, but couldn't overcome the poor fielding.

Don Shaw, Chester's ace right-hander, was the victim as he limited Weirton to four safeties. Neiman picked up the victory for Weirton and struck out six Chester batters.

Weirton scored two runs in the second inning and two more in the third and then added one in the fifth.

Coach Dom Amedeo's Panthers bunched all of their scoring into the fourth inning.

Third baseman Pep Daugherty, who committed four errors himself, topped the Panther hitters with three safeties in four trips. One went for a double.

Feb. 19—Dover St. Joseph, home

Walker Cup Matches Set For Saturday

By STERLING SLAPPEY

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP) — American Walker Cup golfers play this weekend against a man who is so devoted to the thought of beating them that he has hit 600 practice shots a day since October.

The man is Joe Carr, a 37-year-old Irishman who was born and raised on a golf course in Dublin and who has spent much of his time playing golf ever since.

Carr and Reid Jack, a 35-year-old Scottish insurance man, form the backbone of the British Walker Cup team which meets the Americans under Captain Charles Coe in scotch foursomes Friday and in singles Saturday.

The matches will be over Muirfield's 6,806-yard seaside links.

British hopes of winning the Walker Cup for the first time since 1938 and for only the second time in history are higher this year than ever before.

Carr strung lights across part of the little Sutton course which borders his Dublin home. All winter long, without missing a single night, he made 600 or more practice shots.

The American players are: Thomas Aaron, Gainesville, Ga;. Deane Beman, Silver Spring, Md.; Jack Nicklaus, Columbus, Ohio; Ward Wettlaufer, 23, Buffalo, N. Y.; William Hyndman, Philadelphia; Billy Joe Patton, Morgantown, N.C.; Dr. Frank Taylor, Pomona, Calif.; Coe, Oklahoma City; and Harvie Ward, San Francisco.

Michigan Nine Blasts Detroit U. By 24-10

DETROIT (AP) — This is the centennial of college baseball, and Wednesday Michigan and the University of Detroit set the game back 100 years.

It was a conventional 6-3 game until the eighth inning with Detroit leading. Then Michigan erupted for 21 runs in the final two innings and won 24-10.

The zany game bore considerable resemblance to the first college game between Amherst and Williams in 1859. Amherst won 73-32.

Citation, Nashua and Round Table all have won more than one million dollars.

Short Golfer Shoots According To His Size

FORT MADISON, Iowa (AP) — Frank Dodge is one golfer who can shoot nine holes in figures equal to his height and be proud of his score.

He stands just 44 inches tall.

Dodge, 33, uses specially made clubs. Recently he shot a 42, his best nine-hole score.

The first $110,000 race in the United States was the 1923 International Special at Belmont Park where Harry F. Sinclair's Zev beat England's Papyrus.

Hobbie Throws Second Shutout Of Season, 10-0

CHICAGO (AP) — Right-hander Glen Hobbie, the Chicago Cubs sophomore pitching find, moved into exclusive company Wednesday, joining old-timers Warren Spahn and Early Wynn as the major league shutout leaders this season.

The 23-year-old Hobbie, who only three weeks ago tossed a masterful one - hit shutou against St. Louis, blanked Cincinnati in hurling a three-hit, 10-0 victory.

The shutout boosted Hobbie into a tie with 38-year-old Spahn and 39-year-old Wynn with two whitewashings.

While Hobbie led the Cub staff with a 10-6 record last year and was voted Chicago's top rookie, Manager Bob Scheffing relegated him to the bullpen to sharpen his control.

It was Hobbie's improved control that won the Witt, Ill., native a job as a starter this year.

Hobbie had some control trouble Wednesday, tossing 150 pitches, and walking five. He struck out six. The victory gave him a 4-3 record and a respectable 2.88 ERA.

"I was a bit wild," said Hobbie. "But, I'm getting better control. That's what counts. You should have seen me when I first started pitching."

Dupas Fumes After Losing Nod To Scott

CHICAGO (AP)—"What do you have to do to win a fight?" fumed Ralph Dupas after losing to Charley Scott.

"I'm becoming known as the split decision kid," added the No. 2 welterweight contender. "Del Flanagan, Sugar Hart and now Scott get split decisions over me."

Dupas was a dejected figure after Scott, ranked No. 7, won a split decision in a 10-round nationally televised bout Wednesday night in Chicago Stadium.

Scott, an 8-5 ringside favorite, decked Dupas in the first round. The New Orleans welterweight was up at three and took the mandatory eight count.

Scott, a 22-year-old Philadelphian, had much more steam in his punches than the fast-fisted Dupas, who set a furious pace.

'Youngsters' Try To Break Down 'Old Guard' Snead

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — The "youngsters" in golf will try to break through the "old guard" again in the Sam Snead Festival beginning today.

Only twice in the 12 years of the tournament staged on Snead's home grounds have so-called newcomers been able to outscore the veterans.

That was in 1949 when Cary Middlecoff took it at the age of 28 and Herman Scharlau in 1954 at the age of 33, but making his first professional tour.

Gary Player, not yet 23, made the latest challenge last year when he tied Snead at 264 strokes for the 72 holes. The youngster from South Africa bowed to Snead, however, on the fifth extra hole.

Player is among the 56 pros aiming at Snead for the tournament running through Sunday.

Snead will be the one to beat although he will be 47 later this month.

Three Harvard football players are on the Crimson baseball team. They are quarterback Charles Ravenel and halfbacks Chet Boulris and Charles Leamy.

Reds Find 'Road' Rocky At Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—The idea is beginning to be kicked around in the National League that the Cincinnati Reds aren't too tough when they get away from the cozy confines of their own Crosley Field.

A 10-0 defeat by the Chicago Cubs Wednesday brought this comment from one veteran baseball writer:

"It begins to look as if the Reds are tailor-made to fit their own ball park but they'll fall flat on their faces once they get away."

And the statistics seem to bear him out.

The Reds have a 14-13 record but 11 of those games have been won at home. On the road, they have a dismal 3-7 record.

Wednesday's slaughter here wrote another chapter in Bob Purkey's unexplainable futility against the Cubs. Purkey, the Reds' top pitcher last year, didn't win a game from the Cubs in 1958 and he failed to beat them in two starts this year.

For two innings Wednesday it looked as if Purkey might have the jinx halted. Not a single Cub got to base off him in the first two innings.

And then, not only the roof but the entire building caved in on him. Six runs scored and the Red-leg righthander still didn't have a man out. The crusher was Ernie Banks' home run with the bases loaded.

That brought on Willard Schmidt in relief and the Cubs added one more run off him before he got the side out.

The Cubs got another run off Jim O'Toole in the seventh and two more in the eighth, also off O'Toole.

The winning pitcher was Glen Hobbie. He allowed Cincinnati only three hits and struck out six while giving five walks.

Joe Nuxhall tries to crack the Reds' road jinx today as he pitches against Chicago's Dave Hillman.

Campbell Drives Boat 260 MPH For Record

CONISTON, England (AP) — Donald Campbell drove his speedboat Bluebird twice over a measured kilometer today for an official record of 260 miles an hour.

The old record, set by Campbell on the same stretch of Coniston Lake last November, was 248.62 m.p.h.

In the first of today's two runs —one in each direction—required by international rules, Campbell's sleek jet-powered craft hit 275 miles an hour.

Coming back over the measured kilometer the British ace was clocked at 245 m.p.h.

Wilt 'The Stilt' Signs For Over $30,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Warriors have signed Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain to a one-year contract for more than $30,000, making him the highest paid player in the history of the National Basketball Assn.

The seven-foot plus Negro ace once played for Philadelphia's Overbrook High School. He was an All-America at Kansas University for two years before quitting after his junior year to join the Harlem Globetrotters last season.

Banquet Circuit At Peak . . .

The banquet circuit is in full swing for East Liverpool's bowling leagues.

Two dinners highlighted things this last week. The Little Bowling League had 40 turn out Saturday night at the Post 374 home when Jack "Fish" Woomer walked off with most of the trophies.

Woomer turned in high game in the league with a 251 total and in that game rolled nine strikes. He also picked up the trophy for high series with a 639.

Gene's Bar was the champion of the Little League while the Owls Club finished as runnerup.

All officers were returned in the Little League, with Nick Turkaly president, "Chicken" Smith secretary and Duke Koerber treasurer.

THE BIG EIGHT League drew 45 to its banquet Monday night at the St. Anthony Club in Midland.

Sara Purton, who has been one of the top bowlers around town for several seasons, picked up most of the money.

Sara led the women in individual averages with a 155, rolled second high single game of 216 and topped the individual high series with a 564.

Other prize winners were Helen Kidder, who turned in the top individual game of 223, and Rose Comparetta with a 211, good for third place in single games.

Pete Chefalo topped the men with a 257, with Joe Presutti second and Jim Wilson third.

Chefalo was the leader in high three games series for men with a 614.

John Clendenning took home the prize for high average among the men with a 178 mark throughout the season.

Tucker Miller of Wellsville was named president of the league for next year, succeeding John McGarey, and Sara Purton was picked for the secretary-treasurer job.

National League Season Ends . . .

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE bowling season came to an end Monday with Owls Club finishing way out in front to win the fourth and final round.

The playoffs will pit Owls Club against Gengarellas, winners of the third round, for the second half championship Tuesday night.

The winner of the Owls Club—Gengarellas, match will meet Reark's Cigars for the league championship.

The doubles event will get under way Monday, with the singles starting the following week.

Top scores rolled on the final night showed Red Pickering with a 237, Kenny Talbott 227 and Pete Chefalo 226.

MCFAUL'S captured the title in the High School League sponsored by the East Liverpool Jaycees.

Members of the team include Dave McFaul, captain, Bill Rager, John Fickle, Dan McCartney and Paul Lucas.

Several members of the High School League traveled to Northfield last Saturday and tied the high school team there 2-2.

Two splits were converted by National League bowlers, with Pete Chefalo picking up the 5-6 and Angelo Cellini the 4-5-7.

In the Titanium League, Harpold made the 9-10, White 3-9-10, Shaw 5-10 and Hudson 5-8-10.

—:—

THE CATS AND DOGS League also closed out its season Sunday, with Melody Lane sweeping the honors for the fourth and final round.

Melody Lane finished with 38 points, while Krosney Jewelers closed in second with 35. Rolloffs for the league championship will begin next week.

Several records fell in the Cats and Dogs League this past week. Pat Black broke the long standing record for the high three-game series when she turned in a 606.

The CIO entry moved into second place among the high team games with an 813 total and dropped Krosney Jewelers in third place with its 796.

Tri-State Appliance and Bee Kay Distributors are tied for the high team game at 819.

The annual banquet for the Cats and Dogs League will be held June 13 at 6:30 at the St. Anthony Club at Midland. For reservations call Wilma Zoellers, secretary, at FU. 5-7575 before June 6. All reservations must be in and paid for by that date.

—:—

SEVERAL local women bowlers rolled in the National tournament at Buffalo last weekend and turned in a team event of 2,022. The high series for the locals was turned in by JoAnn Soldano with a 419.

In the doubles Rose Comparetta and JoAnn Soldano had a 787 and Rose turned in the best effort in the singles with a 506.

Splits picked up in the Cosmo League showed Jane Ann McLain with the 5-10, Lucy Carter 5-8-10, Thelma Gregory the 5-6 twice, Betty Croxall 4-5-7 and Hope Salsberry 4-7-9-10.

—:—

ANOTHER Summer League will be rolling at the Head Pin Alleys in East End. Called the Harmony League, it includes four teams — East Liverpool Barbershop Society, Muzzey's Bar, Milliron Co. and Midway Diner.

Eason Insurance and Travelers are having a close race in the Big Eight Summer League at the Head Pin.

Eason's hold a one point edge over Travelers. Top games this week showed Jack "Fish" Woomer with a 235 and 212 for a 603 series, Chap Davis a 235, Al Sayre turned in a 213 and John Karaffa a 206 and 202 for a 588 series.

Splits picked up in the Big Eight League showed Ross Swogger 5-7-9, Al Sayre 5-10 and Jack Woomer 5-7.

Indians Move On To Boston

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cleveland Indians open a two-game series against the Red Sox in Boston Friday night with Jim (Mudcat) Grant doing the pitching. Herb Score will pitch the series finale Saturday afternoon.

Score was scheduled to go against the New York Yankees Wednesday afternoon, but the game was postponed. Manager Joe Gordon said he decided to send Grant to the mound ahead of Score because he feels Herb is more effective in daylight.

The Indians have not played the Red Sox this season. An April 28 game in Cleveland was rained out.

The game postponed Wednesday probably will be played in July. The Indians are idle today.

Bill Lobe joined the Indians here Wednesday and will help out in the bullpen now that the Tribe is carrying only two catchers. Lobe was dropped two years ago after serving as a bullpen coach for six years, but he helped out at the Indians' Daytona Beach, Fla., farm camp the last two springs.

Lane-Stengel Feud Resumes In New York

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

An intermittent rain fell and steady sarcasm flowed at New York's Yankee Stadium Wednesday as Frank Lane and Casey Stengel tangled in the latest round of their verbal feud.

Lane, general manager of the American League leading Cleveland Indians, was miffed because the Yankees called off Wednesday's game. Stengel, manager of the sixth-place world champions, shrugged and snubbed the loquacious Lane, just as he did two months ago in spring training.

"I told everybody this spring," said Lane, "that the Yankees weren't invincible. Now they're inaccessible. You can't find them to play them!"

"Maybe," said Stengel, when informed of Lane's remarks on the postponement, "somebody will talk too much some time."

The afternoon game, the finale of a two-game series which opened with a 7-6 Cleveland victory Tuesday night, was called before noon. Both Lane and Indian manager Joe Gordon expressed surprise that the game wasn't rescheduled for today, an open date for both the Indians and the Yankees.

The Yankees, who explained they don't reschedule games that quickly because they feel it is bad business since they can't publicize the new date properly, said they had been informed that it would rain Wednesday afternoon and today. For the record, there was no rain at game time at the stadium, but it did rain later in the afternoon.

The second-place White Sox won the only game played in the American League Wednesday, closing within a game of the Indians as Bob Shaw blanked the Red Sox on five singles, 4-0 at Boston. Rain washed out the Kansas City at Baltimore and Detroit at Washington games.

Shaw, 25, didn't walk a man and struck out three as the White Sox won their fifth in a row. He retired the last 12 men in order while gaining his first complete game in the majors. It was only his sixth start in a three-year career, first this season after 14 relief appearances. He has a 2-0 record.

CONGRATULATIONS are extended to pitcher Glen Hobbie (center) and Ernie Banks (right) by Earl Averill Jr., after Cubs used the "grand slam" homer for second straight victory. Banks contributed the 4-run blow in a 10-0 win over Cincinnati Wednesday at Chicago while Hobbie was hurling a three-hit shutout. Averill connected with a pinch hit grand slam Tuesday to win the contest in the ninth inning. (UPI Telephoto)

First Landing Gets Support For Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP) — All four-legged members of the cast were on stage at Pimlico today, running through their last rehearsal for the 83rd showing of a two-minute drama called the $150,000-added Preakness.

Claiborne Farm's candidate, a smart-looking colt named Dunce, flew in Wednesday fresh from his victory Monday in a Belmont Park allowance race and ready for an effort to redeem his seventh place finish in the May 2 Kentucky Derby.

The arrival of the son of Tom Fool brought to 12 the number of 3-year-old thoroughbreds on the grounds and waiting for Saturday's race. If all perform, the race will be worth a $191,800 gross.

The race will be televised (CBS) 5:30-6 p.m. (DST).

Considerable support has been building up for Christopher T. Chenery's First Landing, who ran third behind Tomy Lee and Sword Dancer in the May 2 Kentucky Derby. Tomy Lee bowed out of the Preakness.

Ruben Gomez Insists Hit Batters Accidental

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Despite what opposing batters may sometimes think, Ruben Gomez wants them to know he's not trying to deck them.

"Suppose you hit a guy in the chest or something like that," the Philadelphia pitcher supposed. "He gets on base, doesn't he?

"Say you accidentally kill a man. Maybe he's got two or three children. How would you feel?"

Gomez, subject of much controversy about close-to-the-vest pitching in his seven years in the majors, discussed the fine art of throwing a baseball.

Gomez asserted he's deliberately thrown at only one batter, Giants pitcher Sam Jones.

"It was two, maybe three years ago when Sam was with St. Louis," Gomez recalled. "I got one inside and it just missed Sam. He said, 'I'll knock you down next time you come up, Ruben.'

"I thought he was kidding. But he threw inside of me, just missing. So I tried to hit him on his next trip. But neither of us connected."

House Group Spurs Action For Licensing Ohio Boats

By Our Own Correspondent

COLUMBUS — A bill to require state licensing of Ohio boats was recommended unanimously for passage Wednesday night by a House committee.

The action by the Mines and Natural Resources Committee, headed by Rep. Joseph Loha (D-Jefferson), came after weeks of work on the bill. Among the measure's authors is Rep. A. G. Lancione (D-Belmont).

The bill would establish a Bureau of Watercraft in the Department of Natural Resources to register boats used on Ohio waters much as motor vehicles are licensed now.

The legislation is necessary this session to forestall federal licensing of boats in the state, due in 1960 if Ohio does not act first.

The measure is supported also by many boating enthusiasts to replace the present system of multiple permits. As many as nine separate licenses are now required if a boat owner wants to operate on all the waters in the state.

The new watercraft bureau would issue a pocketsized certificate to be carried by the owner, plus a license tag to be placed on the boat.

The state licenses would not be required for boats already registered in the federal system in federally-approved systems of other states.

The schedule of fees for the licenses would be as follows:

Rowboat, $2; sailboat, $3; sailboat under 16 feet with detachable out board motor, $5; sailboat 16 feet or more with detachable outboard motor, $7.50; sailboat with inboard engine, $10; outboard motorboats under 16 feet, $5; outboard motorboats 16 feet or more, $7.50; inboard powercraft, $10.

Patrol Cites 2 Women After Glenmoor Crash

Two women drivers were arrested by the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon early Wednesday afternoon after a collision on the Y. & O. Rd. between Route 30 and Glenmoor.

A car driven by Dorothy M. Glynn, 35, of Cannons Mills pulled onto the road from a McAllister's Store and struck the side of a passing auto operated by Mabel McCullough, 38, of Church Rd. near Wellsville, the patrol said.

Damage was minor, according to officers, who cited the Cannons Mills woman for failure to yield the right-of-way and other driver for failure to transfer license registration.

Lane-Stengel Feud Resumes In New York

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

An intermittent rain fell and steady sarcasm flowed at New York's Yankee Stadium Wednesday as Frank Lane and Casey Stengel tangled in the latest round of their verbal feud.

Lane, general manager of the American League leading Cleveland Indians, was miffed because the Yankees called off Wednesday's game. Stengel, manager of the sixth-place world champions, shrugged and snubbed the loquacious Lane, just as he did two months ago in spring training.

"I told everybody this spring," said Lane, "that the Yankees weren't invincible. Now they're inaccessible. You can't find them to play them!"

"Maybe," said Stengel, when informed of Lane's remarks on the postponement, "somebody will talk too much some time."

The afternoon game, the finale of a two-game series which opened with a 7-6 Cleveland victory Tuesday night, was called before noon. Both Lane and Indian manager Joe Gordon expressed surprise that the game wasn't rescheduled for today, an open date for both the Indians and the Yankees.

The Yankees, who explained they don't reschedule games that quickly because they feel it is bad business since they can't publicize the new date properly, said they had been informed that it would rain Wednesday afternoon and today. For the record, there was no rain at game time at the stadium, but it did rain later in the afternoon.

The second-place White Sox won the only game played in the American League Wednesday, closing within a game of the Indians as Bob Shaw blanked the Red Sox on five singles, 4-0 at Boston. Rain washed out the Kansas City at Baltimore and Detroit at Washington games.

Shaw, 25, didn't walk a man and struck out three as the White Sox won their fifth in a row. He retired the last 12 men in order while gaining his first complete game in the majors. It was only his sixth start in a three-year career, first this season after 14 relief appearances. He has a 2-0 record.

Patrol Cites 2 Women After Glenmoor Crash

Two women drivers were arrested by the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon early Wednesday afternoon after a collision on the Y. & O. Rd. between Route 30 and Glenmoor.

A car driven by Dorothy M. Glynn, 35, of Cannons Mills pulled onto the road from a McAllister's Store and struck the side of a passing auto operated by Mabel McCullough, 38, of Church Rd. near Wellsville, the patrol said.

Damage was minor, according to officers, who cited the Cannons Mills woman for failure to yield the right-of-way and other driver for failure to transfer license registration.

King, Queen Will Be Crowned At Beaver Local's First Prom

Announcement and coronation of a "king" and "queen" will highlight Beaver Local High School's first Junior-Senior Prom Friday night at the school near Williamsport.

"Blue Hawaii" will be the theme of the dance for which Chuck Wurster's orchestra will play from 9 to 12. The coronation will be held at 10.

Waitresses in Hawaiian costumes will assist with refreshments. Faculty and Board of Education members and others will be guests.

Post-prom activities, sponsored by the Junior Class parents, will begin at 1 a. m. with Ralph Fusco of Wellsville in charge of entertainment. About 3 a. m. a varied program of round and square dancing will be directed by Vince Andrulis of Lisbon.

Breakfast will be served at 5 a. m. Mrs. Jack Cook, chairman, said.

Chaperones and members of the entertainment committee include Mr. and Mrs. Earl Broadbent, Mr. and Mrs. James Horter, Mr. and Mrs. Dyke Beede, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Plate, Mr. and Mrs. Milan Jacob, Mr. and Mrs. George Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. James Trotter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McBane, Mrs. Charles Barrett and Mrs. Clarence Bowersock.

On the refreshment committee are Mrs. Charles Powell, Mrs. Ernest Watson, Mrs. Jack Pozenel, Mrs. Hazel Meek, Mrs. Basil Mangano and Mrs. Wallace Watson.

Elkton Teacher Honored At PTO Surprise Event

ELKTON — Mrs. Florence Carlisle, teacher for 38 years, was honored in a "This Is Your Life" program at a meeting of the Elkton Parent-Teacher Organization Wednesday night.

About 75 attended the session at which Delmar Harrold was elected president; Bert Dailey, vice president; Mrs. Janice Eells, secretary, and Ralph Martin, treasurer. Mrs. Harrold and Mrs. Ralph Moore were named homeroom chairmen.

Pupils from Mrs. Carlisle's first class attended the meeting. Mrs. Carlisle of Lisbon, second grade teacher, has been at Elkton for 15 years, first teaching at the school which she had attended.

Plans were made for a picnic May 29 at the school grounds. A special meeting will be held during the summer to plan a festival in August.

The next regular meeting will be in September.

MRS. F. K. ROBINSON

Power Concern Employe Here Of 30 Years Retires

Mrs. Helen C. Robinson, telephone operator for the Ohio Power Co. here, has retired after more than 30 years service.

The veteran employe and her husband, Frank K. Robinson, 407 Morton St., plan to spend as much time as possible traveling now that she has retired.

They have been practically everywhere in the U. S. except Florida and California by means of special bus tours.

Mrs. Robinson's other retirement plans include increased activity in her lodge and club work and additional attention to her hobby of raising flowers.

A native of Kensington, Mrs. Robinson attended public schools there and in Millport and East Liverpool. Before joining Ohio Power she worked part-time as a clerk in a department store and for the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. here.

Her service with Ohio Power started Jan. 28, 1929, and she worked as a telephone operator in the East Liverpool District throughout her career.

She is a member of the Business & Professional Women's Club, the Beauceant Assembly and White Shrine of Jerusalem in Wellsville, the Bethesda Presbyterian Church and the Eastern Division Chapter of the Ohio Power Veteran Employe's Assn.

Her husband is a veteran superintendent of the city water department.

46 McKinley Students Make Pittsburgh Trip

The sixth grade of McKinley School made its annual trip to Pittsburgh Wednesday. There are 46 in the class.

The students toured the Carnegie Museum and the Greater Pittsburgh Airport and attended the cinerama, "South Seas Adventure."

Homeroom mothers who assisted Miss Helen Allison, teacher, were Mrs. Frances Cubberly, Mrs. Gerald Goodballet, Mrs. Frederick Lawrence, Mrs. Jay Nuzum and Mrs. John Vernin. The trip was sponsored by the Home and School Association.

Dog Owner Fined

EAST PALESTINE—Earl Barnhouse was fined $10 and costs Wednesday in County Judge Earl Spaulding's court for harboring a dog without a license. He was cited by Deputy Dog Warden Harold McCall.

Council Adopts Budget

Midland Sells $150,000 Of Bonds

Midland Council Wednesday night sold a $150,000 bond issue for borough improvements to Singer, Deane & Scribner, Pittsburgh brokerage firm, for $132 premium and 4 per cent interest.

Another firm bid 4⅛ per cent and $216 premium and a third the same interest rate with a $189 premium. A representative of Burgwin, Ruffin, Perry & Pohl of Pittsburgh, bond counsel, tabulated the bids.

COUNCIL authorized the increase in bonded indebtedness April 8 and proceeds will be used for purchase of street and road equipment and for street work.

The bonds will be paid off at the rate of $10,000 a year June 1, 1960, through 1974. They will be coupon bonds of $1,000 denomination. The Security Columbian Banknote Co. of Philadelphia will print the bonds.

Council adopted the 1959 fiscal year budget.

The budget lists general operating funds of cash and securities, $10,000.32; tax receipts, $337,347; prior taxes, $10,474.99; miscellaneous revenue, $21,271, and from non-revenue sources $1,500, totaling $380,594.06.

—:—

THE BUDGET appropriations include general expenditures of administration, $28,149, with capital outlay, $200, tax collection, $5,100, borough building or office, $18,948.30, totaling $52,329.30; police protection, $77,332, with a capital outlay of $328.26; fire protection, $14,800; building regulation, planning and zoning, $6,700, totaling $102,060.26.

Health and sanitation includes Board of Health, $1,345, sanitary sewers, $615, with a capital outlay of $800, public comfort stations, $300, garbage collection and disposal, $28,500, and ash and rubbish collection and disposal, $27,500 with a capital outlay of $11,000, totaling $70,060.

Highways include streets and bridges, $36,680, with a capital outlay of $3,300, street lighting, $21,000, totaling $61,480; under recreation, parks and playgrounds get $3,600, shade trees, $6,200, and swimming pool, $11,000, totaling $20,800.

MISCELLANEOUS totals $30,734, with a capital outlay of $19,028.26.

Debt service includes temporary loans $1,200, principal $30,000, transfers to sinking fund with $1,837.50 for interest and $1,000 for principal. Total transfers are $11,837.50 and total debt service is $43,037.50.

The tax rate of 16 mills, the same as last year, was set by Council March 11.

The contract for the surfacing of Midland Heights streets was awarded to the Rochester Coal, Trucking & Contracting Co. of Rochester on its bid of $12,335.60. The Interstate Amiesite Corp. of Monaca asked $12,623.20, the Lampl Asphalting & Paving Co. of Dravosburg, $14,626, and E. F. Mengel & Sons of Beaver, $14,344.

COUNCIL AGREED to buy a load packer garbage truck unit from the Ateco Equipment Co. of Pittsburgh. Council approved advertising for bids for the chassis. The complete truck will cost about $11,000 with a $1,000 allowance for an old truck. A new sweeper being bought will cost about $8,233 with a trade-in.

According to R. E. Steebner, borough engineer, the new truck will haul about three and a half times more than the old unit. A regular truck has been used to haul rubbish. With the new addition, labor will be saved with less men needed and faster collection, Council said.

Councilman Joseph Hibbard reminded that the state has complained about conditions at the dump in Cow Hollow, which the borough rents for $100 a month. The dump owner is supposed to see that it is operated properly, not the borough, Hubbard said.

—:—

THE POSSIBILITY of using a new dump five miles from Midland, behind Ohio View, also was discussed.

Council approved an allotment of $300 to the July 4th Committee on request. According to law, the borough can give only that amount for musical entertainment.

A request of A. W. Grossman, 808 Ohio Ave., to cut curbing to widen a driveway entrance was granted.

Council approved purchase of a chlorinator from the Wallace Tiernan Co. for $830 for use at Veterans Memorial Pool. Councilman Harvey Sponcer said a new dry powder feeder will be needed later. Work is being rushed to have the pool ready for Memorial Day, he said.

SPONCER SAID a manager and other personnel are needed for the pool and applications can be made at the borough building until a special meeting for hiring personnel Friday, May 22, at 7 p. m. in Council chambers.

Beaver County Commissioners reported $41.72 collected in tax liens, Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, secretary, reported $14,925.77 in receipts and Rudy Presutti, tax collector, reported $14,781.26 collected in April on the 1959 tax duplicate of $344,232.40, with a balance of $329,451.14 April 30.

Joseph Stanik, treasurer, reported $3,775.74 in the general fund as of April 30. The police chief's report, filed by Capt. H. P. Norris, listed 22 arrests, 2 discharged, one committed, 15 paid fines, one held for court, 2 withdrawn, and one fined by the state.

Fines amounted to $160 and $48.25 was collected from parking meters for a total of $208.25.

Nick D'Innocenzo, sanitation inspector, reported 10 complaints handled. Council voted to pay all bills.

$8,104 Sought In Civil Trial

LISBON — Testimony continued today in Common Pleas Court in trial of a $8,104.70 suit filed by M. A. Hahn of Homeworth against the Salem Stamping & Manufacturing Co. over an oral agreement.

Hahn claims he purchased two four-spindle automatic hub machines from the concern for $4,500, of which he paid $2,250.

He claims he was to furnish the concern two sizes of hubs and the firm was to take 20 per cent of the cost towards the purchase price of the machines.

He said he produced 1,800 hubs but the defendant refused to buy them.

The concern in its cross-petition claims that the hubs were not within the tolerance and could not be used and asks that the plaintiff be required to pay the balance due for the machines.

The jury seated Wednesday by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard includes Margaret Locke and Ralph Clark of East Liverpool, Calvin Funk, Arnold Popa and Leland Guy of Salem, John Jack of Wellsville, Frank Rudibaugh, Emerson Davis and Dorothy Crawford of Lisbon, Graydon Metz of Columbiana, Paul Waithman of Winona, and Betty Wycoff of Beloit R. D. Reese Faulkner of Salem is alternate.

Hair Styling Shown At Beauticians' Meeting

The "Sweetheart Coiffure" was demonstrated by Clyde Silverthorn at the meeting of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetollgists Association Unit 15 Tuesday night at the Travelers Hotel. Miss Dorothy McKinley was the model.

Mrs. Dorothy Putman, chairman of the unit's styles group, explained the purpose of the new hair style.

Brief business was conducted by Clarence Gilbert, president.

Various types of hair cutting will be shown at the meeting June 9.

Loud Speaker System Given Try-Out In Court

In an experiment to determine if a problem of bad acoustics can be solved, a public address system has been installed on a trial basis in the Municipal Court chamber.

The system was ready for its first real test this morning, but there was no session of court for the first time in weeks. Police had no prisoners for the morning parade before Judge George L. Brokaw.

The temporary system includes a microphone on the judge's bench, an 18-watt amplifier and two speakers mounted on opposite sides of the room. For years spectators have complained they have been unable to hear the court proceedings, principally because bad acoustics "kill" sound from the front of the chamber.

Democratic Women's Club Elects Officers

Mrs. Lillian McKeever was retained as president at the meeting of the Women's Democrat Club Monday night in the Ostrow Building.

Others elected were: Mrs. Elizabeth Finlay, vice president; Mrs. Jean Flasco, secretary, and Mrs. Margaret Archer, treasurer.

Refreshments were served 25 by the social committee.

Park Fund Gets $258 In 2nd Quarter Drive

A total of $258 has been received in the second-quarter mail solicitation for the Chester City Park fund program, Miss Sara Thomas, treasurer, reported at a meeting of the City Park Commission Wednesday night.

Miss Thomas said the contributions had been received from 111 persons in response to the second-quarter letter campaign. The building fund now totals $5,467.

Further plans were discussed for completion of the community building. Commission members will meet Friday night with a representative of a playground equipment concern to discuss purchase of playground items.

Harold Dickey, chairman, presided. The next meeting will be May 27.

'In Time Of Trouble' To Be Pastor's Topic

"In Time of Trouble" will be the subject of Pastor Elmon H. Roy at the 11:30 a. m. worship Saturday in the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Mrs. Robert Metcalfe will sing.

Sabbath School will begin at 10 a. m. with Kathryn Minesinger in charge.

The pastor will conduct a class for Sabbath School teachers Friday at 8 p. m. The theme will be "What Is Christian Teaching?"

Council Adopts Budget

Midland Sells $150,000 Of Bonds

Midland Council Wednesday night sold a $150,000 bond issue for borough improvements to Singer, Deane & Scribner, Pittsburgh brokerage firm, for $132 premium and 4 per cent interest.

Another firm bid 4⅛ per cent and $216 premium and a third the same interest rate with a $189 premium. A representative of Burgwin, Ruffin, Perry & Pohl of Pittsburgh, bond counsel, tabulated the bids.

COUNCIL authorized the increase in bonded indebtedness April 8 and proceeds will be used for purchase of street and road equipment and for street work.

The bonds will be paid off at the rate of $10,000 a year June 1, 1960, through 1974. They will be coupon bonds of $1,000 denomination. The Security Columbian Banknote Co. of Philadelphia will print the bonds.

Council adopted the 1959 fiscal year budget.

The budget lists general operating funds of cash and securities, $10,000.32; tax receipts, $337,347; prior taxes, $10,474.99; miscellaneous revenue, $21,271, and from non-revenue sources $1,500, totaling $380,594.06.

—:—

THE BUDGET appropriations include general expenditures of administration, $28,149, with capital outlay, $200, tax collection, $5,100, borough building or office, $18,948.30, totaling $52,329.30; police protection, $77,332, with a capital outlay of $328.26; fire protection, $14,800; building regulation, planning and zoning, $6,700, totaling $102,060.26.

Health and sanitation includes Board of Health, $1,345, sanitary sewers, $615, with a capital outlay of $800, public comfort stations, $300, garbage collection and disposal, $28,500, and ash and rubbish collection and disposal, $27,500 with a capital outlay of $11,000, totaling $70,060.

Highways include streets and bridges, $36,660, with a capital outlay of $3,800, street lighting, $21,000, totaling $61,480; under recreation, parks and playgrounds get $3,600, shade trees, $6,200, and swimming pool, $11,000, totaling $20,800.

MISCELLANEOUS totals $30,734, with a capital outlay of $19,028.26.

Debt service includes temporary loans $1,200, principal $30,000, transfers to sinking fund with $1,837.50 for interest and $1,000 for principal. Total transfers are $1[illegible]837.50 and total debt service is $43,037.50.

The tax rate of 16 mills, the same as last year, was set by Council March 11.

The contract for the surfacing of Midland Heights streets was awarded to the Rochester Coal, Trucking & Contracting Co. of Rochester on its bid of $12,335.60. The Interstate Amiesite Corp. of Monaca asked $12,623.20, the Lampl Asphalting & Paving Co. of Dravosburg, $14,626, and E. F. Mengel & Sons of Beaver, $14,344.

COUNCIL AGREED to buy a load packer garbage truck unit from the Ateco Equipment Co. of Pittsburgh. Council approved advertising for bids for the chassis. The complete truck will cost about $11,000 with a $1,000 allowance for an old truck. A new sweeper being bought will cost about $8,233 with a trade-in.

According to R. E. Steebner, borough engineer, the new truck will haul about three and a half times more than the old unit. A regular truck has been used to haul rubbish. With the new addition, labor will be saved with less men needed and faster collection, Council said.

Councilman Joseph Hibbard reminded that the state has complained about conditions at the dump in Cow Hollow, which the borough rents for $100 a month. The dump owner is supposed to see that it is operated properly, not the borough, Hubbard said.

—:—

THE POSSIBILITY of using a new dump five miles from Midland, behind Ohio View, also was discussed.

Council approved an allotment of $300 to the July 4th Committee on request. According to law, the borough can give only that amount for musical entertainment.

A request of A. W. Grossman, 808 Ohio Ave., to cut curbing to widen a driveway entrance was granted.

Council approved purchase of a chlorinator from the Wallace Tiernan Co. for $830 for use at Veterans Memorial Pool. Councilman Harvey Sponcer said a new dry powder feeder will be needed later. Work is being rushed to have the pool ready for Memorial Day, he said.

SPONCER SAID a manager and other personnel are needed for the pool and applications can be made at the borough building until a special meeting for hiring personnel Friday, May 22, at 7 p. m. in Council chambers.

Beaver County Commissioners reported $41.72 collected in tax liens, Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, secretary, reported $14,925.77 in receipts and Rudy Presutti, tax collector, reported $14,781.26 collected in April on the 1959 tax duplicate of $344,232.40, with a balance of $329,451.14 April 30.

Joseph Stanik, treasurer, reported $3,775.74 in the general fund as of April 30. The police chief's report, filed by Capt. H. P. Norris, listed 22 arrests, 2 discharged, one committed, 15 paid fines, one held for court, 2 withdrawn, and one fined by the state.

Fines amounted to $160 and $48.25 was collected from parking meters for a total of $208.25.

Nick D'Innocenzo, sanitation inspector, reported 10 complaints handled. Council voted to pay all bills.

$8,104 Sought In Civil Trial

LISBON — Testimony continued today in Common Pleas Court in trial of a $8,104.70 suit filed by M. A. Hahn of Homeworth against the Salem Stamping & Manufacturing Co. over an oral agreement.

Hahn claims he purchased two four-spindle automatic hub machines from the concern for $4,500, of which he paid $2,250.

He claims he was to furnish the concern two sizes of hubs and the firm was to take 20 per cent of the cost towards the purchase price of the machines.

He said he produced 1,800 hubs but the defendant refused to buy them.

The concern in its cross-petition claims that the hubs were not within the tolerance and could not be used and asks that the plaintiff be required to pay the balance due for the machines.

The jury seated Wednesday by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard includes Margaret Locke and Ralph Clark of East Liverpool, Calvin Funk, Arnold Popa and Leland Guy of Salem, John Jack of Wellsville, Frank Rudibaugh, Emerson Davis and Dorothy Crawford of Lisbon, Graydon Metz of Columbiana, Paul Waithman of Winona, and Betty Wycoff of Beloit R. D. Reese Faulkner of Salem is alternate.

Hair Styling Shown At Beauticians' Meeting

The "Sweetheart Coiffure" was demonstrated by Clyde Silverthorn at the meeting of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetollgists Association Unit 15 Tuesday night at the Travelers Hotel. Miss Dorothy McKinley was the model.

Mrs. Dorothy Putman, chairman of the unit's styles group, explained the purpose of the new hair style.

Brief business was conducted by Clarence Gilbert, president.

Various types of hair cutting will be shown at the meeting June 9.

Loud Speaker System Given Try-Out In Court

In an experiment to determine if a problem of bad acoustics can be solved, a public address system has been installed on a trial basis in the Municipal Court chamber.

The system was ready for its first real test this morning, but there was no session of court for the first time in weeks. Police had no prisoners for the morning parade before Judge George L. Brokaw.

The temporary system includes a microphone on the judge's bench, an 18-watt amplifier and two speakers mounted on opposite sides of the room. For years spectators have complained they have been unable to hear the court proceedings, principally because bad acoustics "kill" sound from the front of the chamber.

Democratic Women's Club Elects Officers

Mrs. Lillian McKeever was retained as president at the meeting of the Women's Democrat Club Monday night in the Ostrow Building.

Others elected were: Mrs. Elizabeth Finlay, vice president; Mrs. Jean Flasco, secretary, and Mrs. Margaret Archer, treasurer.

Refreshments were served 25 by the social committee.

Park Fund Gets $258 In 2nd Quarter Drive

A total of $258 has been received in the second-quarter mail solicitation for the Chester City Park fund program, Miss Sara Thomas, treasurer, reported at a meeting of the City Park Commission Wednesday night.

Miss Thomas said the contributions had been received from 111 persons in response to the second-quarter letter campaign. The building fund now totals $5,467.

Further plans were discussed for completion of the community building. Commission members will meet Friday night with a representative of a playground equipment concern to discuss purchase of playground items.

Harold Dickey, chairman, presided. The next meeting will be May 27.

'In Time Of Trouble' To Be Pastor's Topic

"In Time of Trouble" will be the subject of Pastor Elmon H. Roy at the 11:30 a. m. worship Saturday in the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Mrs. Robert Metcalfe will sing.

Sabbath School will begin at 10 a. m. with Kathryn Minesinger in charge.

The pastor will conduct a class for Sabbath School teachers Friday at 8 p. m. The theme will be "What Is Christian Teaching?"

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: I'm in my first year of college and in dire need of help. My steady girl and I agreed when I went off to school we would both date others. During Easter vacation I dated my former steady and also another girl who is a close friend of hers.

Girl No. 2 didn't have the high standards of my former steady and we became intimate after just a couple of dates. I know it was wrong and I'm particularly ashamed because she never meant anything to me. I don't plan to date her again.

Now my former steady has started to write very warm letters. She says she's beginning to think of me as THE man in her life. In her last three letters she asked what went on during vacation between me and the other girl.

I've ignored the question as I don't want to damage a reputation. At the same time, she may know more than I think and if I don't level with her she may cool off on men. Please help.—TROUBLED STUDENT.

Dear Troubled: You are a brass-plated, four-door heel to have used the girl so shabbily. Your statement that "her standards weren't as high as the other girl's" was interesting. What about YOUR standards, Bub? Do you raise and lower them like an elevator, according to the company you keep?

The confession that the girl never meant anything to you supports what I've been trying to drill into the heads of teen-age girls. If a fellow has respect for a young lady he won't try to sell her on such shenanigans.

You behaved like a cad. Don't compound the felony by blabbing. Continue to ignore the written question. If she confronts you in person, tell her she's out of order and what went on with you and a third party is none of her business.

Call For New Deal

Dear Ann: My wife is a school teacher. We've been married 15 years and have four children. She tells me she's happiest when she's teaching school or attending night classes to advance her education, which she does two nights a week.

I belong to a service club and we play cards (for fun, not money) after the weekly meetings. If I'm not home when my wife decides I should be, she calls the club and orders me to leave at once. If I try to finish the game she calls again. It's very embarrassing. How should I handle this?—H.B.

Dear H.B.: Inform your wife you'll make her a deal—YOU won't bother her at night school if she'll let you alone at the club. Midnight is a reasonable curfew. Tell her not to expect you home before then on meeting nights. A "doormat" has no special gender. It can be male or female. Get off the floor, Mister.

Back To Nature

Dear Ann: I'm 31 and have been bleaching my hair for almost 10 years. I was a natural blonde in my younger days but when my hair began to get darker, I decided to lighten it and keep it that way.

Recently several good friends have suggested my hair is artificial looking. I'd like to let it go back to natural as I'm tired of keeping it up but I'm afraid of what my boy friend will say when he sees how dark it really is. He knows I do "a little something" but not THIS much. Please advise me.—JOAN.

Dear Joan: Instead of letting your hair grow back to its natural color and suffer through the zebra stages ask your operator to tint it a shade darker every few weeks. It won't cost any more than the goldilocks routine and it's a subtle and painless way to return to Mother Nature's own hue.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Charged With Murder

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Alfred Sanders, 25, of Cleveland, was charged Wednesday with first degree murder in the slaying of a 79-year-old farmer. Police said Sanders, an escapee from the Grafton State Prison Farm, has admitted stabbing Faber Mandeville after breaking into his farm home April 17. Mandeville's home adjoins the prison farm in Lorain County. Sanders had escaped the previous day.

Power Firm Pares Charge

Because of improvements in its generating delivery efficiencies, the Ohio Power Co. has revised downward a fuel cost recovery charge in its residential and commercial rates.

The company announced two weeks ago it would reduce its fuel cost recovery charges in rates to some 1,300 industrial and large commercial customers.

The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio this week approved Ohio Power's application to also reduce any future residential or commercial fuel clause charges which would result from increases in the company's fuel costs.

The revised fuel cost recovery clause does not have any immediate effect on rates of Ohio Power customers because the company has been able to hold down its coal costs since an original residential and small commercial (fuel clause) was approved in a PUCO order last December.

In the original order, Ohio Power was given permission to adjust its charges upward or downward if the cost of fuel used in the generation of electricity varied from a certain base price. It would have meant an increase of about 18 cents per year for the average residential customer if coal had gone up 11 cents per ton.

The revised clause provides for a decrease of approximately 4.3 per cent in the charges that would be applied if the cost of coal increases.

Fair Board Approves Use Of Lisbon Ground

LISBON — Use of the Columbiana County Fairgrounds has been granted to the Northeast Ohio Horse Pulling Association for a program May 30, officials of the county Agriculture Society announced.

The fairgrounds will also be used by county schools for the annual field day Tuesday and by the Lisbon Junior Hot Stove League for baseball games during the summer.

Renting of the Sullivan property adjacent to the fairgrounds has been approved for parking space for the annual County Fair Aug. 25-29.

Galen Greenisen of Salem R. D., member of the society, has been elected to the state executive committee of the Ohio Fair Managers Association.

The fair board will meet June 1 at 8 p. m. at the fairgrounds office.

Club Gets Report On Cancer Fund

A report on the house-to-house Cancer Fund campaign was made by Mrs. Betty McDowell, chairman, at a meeting of the Wellsville Women's Civic Club Tuesday night at the Carnegie Library.

Mrs. McDowell said the club raised a total of $645.61. The club spearheads the drive annually. The money will be turned over to Atty. William Bush, city chairman.

Plans were announced for a record hop Sept. 11 at the Beacom Memorial gym for a fund raising project. Jay Michaels, Cleveland disc jockey, will play records from 8:30 to 10:30 p. m.

A donation was made to a group of parents who held a post-prom party for the students following the annual high school dance.

Mrs. Peggy Rawlings, president, announced the club now will hold its monthly meetings at the library instead of at Central Federal Savings & Loan Association.

Dear Troubled: You are a brass-plated, four-door heel to have used the girl so shabbily. Your statement that "her standards weren't as high as the other girl's" was interesting. What about YOUR standards, Bub? Do you raise and lower them like an elevator, according to the company you keep?

The confession that the girl never meant anything to you supports what I've been trying to drill into the heads of teen-age girls. If a fellow has respect for a young lady he won't try to sell her on such shenanigans.

You behaved like a cad. Don't compound the felony by blabbing. Continue to ignore the written question. If she confronts you in person, tell her she's out of order and what went on with you and a third party is none of her business.

Call For New Deal

Dear Ann: My wife is a school teacher. We've been married 15 years and have four children. She tells me she's happiest when she's teaching school or attending night classes to advance her education, which she does two nights a week.

I belong to a service club and we play cards (for fun, not money) after the weekly meetings. If I'm not home when my wife decides I should be, she calls the club and orders me to leave at once. If I try to finish the game she calls again. It's very embarrassing. How should I handle this?—H.B.

Dear H.B.: Inform your wife you'll make her a deal—YOU won't bother her at night school if she'll let you alone at the club. Midnight is a reasonable curfew. Tell her not to expect you home before then on meeting nights. A "doormat" has no special gender. It can be male or female. Get off the floor, Mister.

Back To Nature

Dear Ann: I'm 31 and have been bleaching my hair for almost 10 years. I was a natural blonde in my younger days but when my hair began to get darker, I decided to lighten it and keep it that way.

Recently several good friends have suggested my hair is artificial looking. I'd like to let it go back to natural as I'm tired of keeping it up but I'm afraid of what my boy friend will say when he sees how dark it really is. He knows I do "a little something" but not THIS much. Please advise me.—JOAN.

Dear Joan: Instead of letting your hair grow back to its natural color and suffer through the zebra stages ask your operator to tint it a shade darker every few weeks. It won't cost any more than the goldilocks routine and it's a subtle and painless way to return to Mother Nature's own hue.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Charged With Murder

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Alfred Sanders, 25, of Cleveland, was charged Wednesday with first degree murder in the slaying of a 79-year-old farmer. Police said Sanders, an escapee from the Grafton State Prison Farm, has admitted stabbing Faber Mandeville after breaking into his farm home April 17. Mandeville's home adjoins the prison farm in Lorain County. Sanders had escaped the previous day.

Power Firm Pares Charge

Because of improvements in its generating delivery efficiencies, the Ohio Power Co. has revised downward a fuel cost recovery charge in its residential and commercial rates.

The company announced two weeks ago it would reduce its fuel cost recovery charges in rates to some 1,300 industrial and large commercial customers.

The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio this week approved Ohio Power's application to also reduce any future residential or commercial fuel clause charges which would result from increases in the company's fuel costs.

The revised fuel cost recovery clause does not have any immediate effect on rates of Ohio Power customers because the company has been able to hold down its coal costs since an original residential and small commercial (fuel clause) was approved in a PUCO order last December.

In the original order, Ohio Power was given permission to adjust its charges upward or downward if the cost of fuel used in the generation of electricity varied from a certain base price. It would have meant an increase of about 18 cents per year for the average residential customer if coal had gone up 11 cents per ton.

The revised clause provides for a decrease of approximately 4.3 per cent in the charges that would be applied if the cost of coal increases.

Fair Board Approves Use Of Lisbon Ground

LISBON — Use of the Columbiana County Fairgrounds has been granted to the Northeast Ohio Horse Pulling Association for a program May 30, officials of the county Agriculture Society announced.

The fairgrounds will also be used by county schools for the annual field day Tuesday and by the Lisbon Junior Hot Stove League for baseball games during the summer.

Renting of the Sullivan property adjacent to the fairgrounds has been approved for parking space for the annual County Fair Aug. 25-29.

Galen Greenisen of Salem R. D., member of the society, has been elected to the state executive committee of the Ohio Fair Managers Association.

The fair board will meet June 1 at 8 p. m. at the fairgrounds office.

Club Gets Report On Cancer Fund

A report on the house-to-house Cancer Fund campaign was made by Mrs. Betty McDowell, chairman, at a meeting of the Wellsville Women's Civic Club Tuesday night at the Carnegie Library.

Mrs. McDowell said the club raised a total of $645.61. The club spearheads the drive annually. The money will be turned over to Atty. William Bush, city chairman.

Plans were announced for a record hop Sept. 11 at the Beacom Memorial gym for a fund raising project. Jay Michaels, Cleveland disc jockey, will play records from 8:30 to 10:30 p. m.

A donation was made to a group of parents who held a post-prom party for the students following the annual high school dance.

Mrs. Peggy Rawlings, president, announced the club now will hold its monthly meetings at the library instead of at Central Federal Savings & Loan Association.

Society President Dies

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Walter W. Hofelich, 78, president of the Sandusky County Historical Society, died Wednesday. He also had been county auditor.

None Hurt Seriously In Derailment, Crash

FRAZER, Pa. (AP) — A freight train derailed Wednesday night and moments later a passenger train plowed into the wreckage blocking the four main line tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

None of the 41 passengers and 5 crewmen aboard the night express from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh was hospitalized, but three people reported minor injuries. All were brought back to Philadelphia early today on a relief train. The five crewmen on the freight train escaped injury.

200 Attend Dinner Preceding Meeting Of PTA At Westgate

Two hundred attended the coverdish dinner that preceded the meeting of the Westgate Elementary Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday night in the cafeteria.

The homeroom mothers with Mrs. Ray Rigdon as chairman were in charge. Prayer was given by Judson English, retiring president.

Business was conducted by English in the general purpose room, when reports were heard.

Mrs. Rigdon, chairman of the safety committee, reported that 20 patrol boys from Westgate and 19 from McKinley School visited Carnegie Museum and attended a baseball game in Pittsburgh last week. En route home, the group was treated to a chicken supper at a restaurant on Route 30. They were accompanied by Ray Rigdon, Charles Deshler, Gerald Maney and Leroy Small.

Miss Pauline Smiley, chairman, gave the audit report and Miss Della Ingles, the treasurer's report.

Wilbur Shaffer and Mrs. Nelson Wright were appointed representatives to the City PTA Federation.

Officers for the next school term were seated by Paul Blair, assistant superintendent of schools. They are: Ralph Widger, president; William G. Persohn, vice president; Mrs. Ralph Widger, secretary; Mrs. Roy Rinehart, corresponding secretary; Miss Violet Vorndran, treasurer, and Mrs. Dale Franklin, historian.

The retiring president presented corsages to the new officers.

Following the installation, Miss Mildred McGregor introduced William Weidner of Kent State University who spoke on "Your Child and His Speech." Two therapists from the Clinic, M. Frank Rhodes and Sauva Saunders were recognized.

The meeting was closed by Widger.

Darlington Area Crash Kills Beaver Man, 81

An 81-year-old New Castle autoist was killed Wednesday at 9 a. m. when his car collided with a truck at the intersection of Routes 251 and 168, four miles south of Darlington.

Myron Heck of New Castle R. D. 5 died but the truck driver, Cecil M. Nicholson, 35, of near Beach City, Ohio, was uninjured, the Rochester Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police reported. He also was driving alone.

State police said Nicholson was traveling east on Route 251 and Heck was going south on 168 and they collided at the intersection.

Area Highway Group To Vote For Directors

Four members will be elected to the 12-man Board of Directors of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway Association at its annual business meeting Tuesday night at 6:30 at the El Rio Restaurant on Route 422, near Warren.

The election will follow a report from a nominating committee comprised of Walter G. Scott of Hubbard, chairman, A. C. Patterson of Ashtabula, John E. Krizan of Niles and E. R. Chandler of East Liverpool. Each of the four counties the association covers is represented on the nominating committee—Scott from Mahoning, Patterson from Ashtabula, Krizan from Trumbull and Chandler from Columbiana.

The organization was formed more than a year ago to work for construction of a new four - lane highway linking East Liverpool on the Ohio River with Ashtabula on Lake Erie.

Directors in expiring terms are: Castle M. Smith of Salem, Robert Patterson of Youngstown, Owen A. Owens, also of Youngstown, and Leo Brown of Ashtabula.

The present officers, who also are members of the board, are: Atty. Francis H. Lang of East Liverpool, president; J. Paul Mossman of Youngstown, vice president; Smith, secretary, and Krizan, treasurer.

Other directors are: Walter G. Scott of Hubbard, Harold J. Mills of Warren. A. C. Patterson, V. Hamilton Weir of Conneaut and Chandler.

The election of officers by the directors will be scheduled later. Tuesday's meeting will be occupied with reports on recent activities and the election.

Lilly As Mental Health Head Meets With Ross' Approval

CHARLESTON (AP) — "Personally, I rather like him."

Dr. Margaret Ross said this about Dr. Richard Lilly a few hours after he succeeded her as the $20,000-a-year director of the State Department of Mental Health.

She had just spent three weeks doing everything in her power — as the whole state came to know — to stop the appointment of the young psychiatrist by Gov. Underwood. She had given up only after her removal on charges of incompetence had been threatened.

The final expression of no personal ill-will against Dr. Lilly did not signify that Dr. Ross had changed her professional opinion of him. This she summed up with the remark, "I have a feeling he is being used. . .and I don't think he minds. That's really what I was fighng about."

Dr. Ross had said when the dispute over the new director began that she thought Dr. Lilly was too ready to let himself be made use of politically.

Nonetheless, she wished him well last night in the moment of his triumph and her defeat. "I think Dr. Lilly will get a fair chance," she said. "I certainly hope so."

Her own future is undecided. She said that she had been offered, informally, her old job back as psychiatrist at the Beckley Memorial Hospital. She was at the United Mine Workers institutions for three years before going into the Department of Mental Health.

Her decision will come later. She said she was going to think things over while visiting her grandchildren "scattered from Virginia up to Massachusetts." Dr. Ross is 66.

Her parting remarks was a plea for public backing of a good mental program.

"The ultimate responsibility," she said, "lies in the hands of the citizens."

Ex-Welfare Worker Cited In Embezzlement

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Walter E. Atwood, 23, of Oberlin, was charged with embezzlement of public funds in an indictment returned Wednesday by the Lorain County Grand Jury. He is a former county welfare worker.

Atwood is accused of taking $358 in County Welfare Department refunds between Jan. 1 and April 4. Welfare Director Gerard Primz ordered him to resign April 4, when he discovered the alleged thefts. He had been a caseworker since May 1, 1958.

The charge said Atwood obtained the money from welfare clients who were returning overpayments in cash. His excuse, officials said, was that his family was destitute and he needed the money to help.

Atwood faces arraignment Tuesday.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE FOR BIDS.
Sealed bids will be received by the Director of Public Service-Safety of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, until twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Daylight Savings Time, May 29, 1959, for the sale to the City of One Hundred (100) parking meters (5 cent per hour type) according to specifications on file in the office of the Director.

Said bids above mentioned shall contain therein an offer by the bidder for the purchase by the bidder from the City of One Hundred (100) Dual-Meter Company (5 cents per hour) parking meters which are hereby offered for sale and will be sold simultaneously and in a single contract with the purchase of the new meters. It is stipulated that the sale price of the City meters will be subtracted from the purchase price of the new meters as a means of determining the lowest and best bidder according to law.

Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a certified check on some solvent bank in the amount of 5% of the bid for the new meters payable to the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool as a guaranty that if the bid is accepted, a contract shall be entered into and its performance properly secured. Should any bid be rejected such check will be forthwith returned to the bidder, and should any bid be accepted such check will be returned upon the proper execution and securing of the contract.

Envelopes containing bids should be marked on outside "Parking Meter Bid".

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

NOTICE FOR BIDS.
Sealed bids will be received by the Director of Public Service-Safety of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, at the office of said Director until twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Daylight Savings Time, May 29, 1959, for sale to the City of a sewer cleaning machine for the Sewerage Department according to specifications on file in said office.

Each bid must contain the full names of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a certified check on some solvent bank in the amount of 5% of the total bid (but in no event shall said check be less than $100.00) payable to the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool as a guaranty that if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured. Should any bid be rejected such will be forthwith returned to the bidder, and should any bid be accepted such check will be returned upon the proper execution and securing of the contract.

Envelopes containing bids should be marked on outside with "Sewer Cleaning Machine Bid".

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Lilly As Mental Health Head Meets With Ross' Approval

CHARLESTON (AP) — "Personally, I rather like him."

Dr. Margaret Ross said this about Dr. Richard Lilly a few hours after he succeeded her as the $20,000-a-year director of the State Department of Mental Health.

She had just spent three weeks doing everything in her power — as the whole state came to know — to stop the appointment of the young psychiatrist by Gov. Underwood. She had given up only after her removal on charges of incompetence had been threatened.

The final expression of no personal ill-will against Dr. Lilly did not signify that Dr. Ross had changed her professional opinion of him. This she summed up with the remark, "I have a feeling he is being used. . .and I don't think he minds. That's really what I was fighng about."

Dr. Ross had said when the dispute over the new director began that she thought Dr. Lilly was too ready to let himself be made use of politically.

Nonetheless, she wished him well last night in the moment of his triumph and her defeat. "I think Dr. Lilly will get a fair chance," she said. "I certainly hope so."

Her own future is undecided. She said that she had been offered, informally, her old job back as psychiatrist at the Beckley Memorial Hospital. She was at the United Mine Workers institutions for three years before going into the Department of Mental Health.

Her decision will come later. She said she was going to think things over while visiting her grandchildren "scattered from Virginia up to Massachusetts." Dr. Ross is 66.

Her parting remarks was a plea for public backing of a good mental program.

"The ultimate responsibility," she said, "lies in the hands of the citizens."

Ex-Welfare Worker Cited In Embezzlement

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Walter E. Atwood, 23, of Oberlin, was charged with embezzlement of public funds in an indictment returned Wednesday by the Lorain County Grand Jury. He is a former county welfare worker.

Atwood is accused of taking $358 in County Welfare Department refunds between Jan. 1 and April 4. Welfare Director Gerard Primz ordered him to resign April 4, when he discovered the alleged thefts. He had been a caseworker since May 1, 1958.

The charge said Atwood obtained the money from welfare clients who were returning overpayments in cash. His excuse, officials said, was that his family was destitute and he needed the money to help.

Atwood faces arraignment Tuesday.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE FOR BIDS.

Sealed bids will be received by the Director of Public Service-Safety of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, until twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Daylight Savings Time, May 29, 1959, for the sale to the City of One Hundred (100) parking meters (5 cent per hour type) according to specifications on file in the office of the Director.

Said bids above mentioned shall contain therein an offer by the bidder for the purchase by the bidder from the City of One Hundred (100) Dual-Meter Company (5 cents per hour) parking meters which are hereby offered for sale and will be sold simultaneously and in a single contract with the purchase of the new meters. It is stipulated that the sale price of the City meters will be subtracted from the purchase price of the new meters as a means of determining the lowest and best bidder according to law.

Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a certified check on some solvent bank in the amount of 5% of the bid for the new meters payable to the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool as a guaranty that if the bid is accepted, a contract shall be entered into and its performance properly secured. Should any bid be rejected such check will be forthwith returned to the bidder, and should any bid be accepted such check will be returned upon the proper execution and securing of the contract.

Envelopes containing bids should be marked on outside "Parking Meter Bid".

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Opinion Of Six Experts

Time-Place-Circumstance Involved In Delinquency

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Juvenile delinquency is a thing of time, place and circumstance.

The childish prank of a 5-year-old may be hooliganism in a teenager.

Foul language is shocking in a classroom, but passes unnoticed in a street corner gang.

To steal for kicks is outright crime, to steal because you're hungry and don't know where your next meal is coming from is crime tempered by the instinct to survive.

A panel of six experts, who have just concluded a nine-month study of juvenile delinquency for the National Education Assn., says a delinquent act can only be judged in relation to the forces that caused it. The specialists represent the fields of cultural anthropology, pediatrics, psychiatry, psychology, criminology and sociology.

Nearly everyone considers himself an expert on juvenile delinquency, and has firm ideas about its causes and cures. But, say the experts, it's not that simple, or delinquency would long since have ceased to be a major topic of national concern.

Over the years, says the NEA study, a great deal of fable and folklore has grown up around the problems of the adolescent.

Many people, for instance, point to working mothers as a major cause of delinquency according to the experts, however, the effects of a working mother varies from family to family, neighborhood to neighborhood. More research is needed, they say, before this theory can be accepted.

Broken homes often are blamed. But it may be only because the youngster with two parents to back him gets a better break in court. The youngster from a broken home runs a bigger risk of being sent off to a state institution — and he's the one who gets mentioned in the newspapers.

The proposition that delinquents aren't really bright is a common assumption with little or no scientific support, according to the report.

Another popular idea knocked by the experts is that "a community with many playgrounds is a community with little delinquency." Carefully planned recreation programs can help, they say, if coordinated with other efforts, but their research indicates no direct relationship between such programs and delinquency rates.

Bad companions, heredity, poor physical health and slum neighborhoods also were cited by the experts as oft-quoted causes of delinquency which really aren't.

"Juvenile delinquency is not a 24-hour malady," says the report. "It does not develop overnight. Serious and persistent trouble with the law on the part of youngsters can be traced back to a long sequence of cause and effect."

The current report offers no pat solution for the juvenile delinquency problem because, the experts say, there just isn't any.

The report did make these points, however:

There is a desperate need for more and better research than ever has been attempted in the field.

Community efforts that have proven effective must be expanded, and useless practices discarded.

More and better efforts must be made to identify the delinquency bound youngster before he gets there.

Primarily, it said, "in seeking a cure for delinquency, the neighborhood, not the child, must be the patient."

PTA At Chester Inducts Officers

Mrs. Alvin Reed, president, and other new officers of Chester Central Parent - Teacher Association were installed at a meeting Tuesday night at the high school.

Mrs. John Johnston, retiring president, was in charge.

Earl Pittenger was named chairman of an auditing committee to check financial records of the past year. It was announced a PTA officers' training meeting will be held June 12 at the Central School.

Mrs. Johnston requested members to support the proposed 50 per cent school levy at the special election Tuesday.

The group will send a delegate to a leaders training session June 5-7 at Camp Caesar, Webster Springs. A musical program was presented by the junior band under the direction of John Clovis.

Refreshments were served 175 by the sixth and seventh grade homeroom mothers, with Mrs. John Ludovici as chairman.

The group will meet Sept. 15.

Kiwanis Guest Speaks On Estonia And Latvia

The history of Estonia and Latvia in Central Europe was traced by Dr. Janis Lauva at a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at Piatt's Tea Room.

Dr. Lauva is from Latvia. He has been practicing in Wellsville since 1956. Thirty were present.

The group went to MacLean's Funeral Home to pay respects to Charles D. Piatt, a member, who died Monday.

William Winland and Robert Kemper of the Key Club were guests. Other guests were Jay Cochran of Ironton, an Ohio Bell Telephone Co. employe, and Albert Laub of Pittsburgh of the bond firm of Singer, Dean & Scribner.

Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara, president, presided.

The childish prank of a 5-year-old may be hooliganism in a teen-ager.

Foul language is shocking in a classroom, but passes unnoticed in a street corner gang.

To steal for kicks is outright crime, to steal because you're hungry and don't know where your next meal is coming from is crime tempered by the instinct to survive.

A panel of six experts, who have just concluded a nine-month study of juvenile delinquency for the National Education Assn., says a delinquent act can only be judged in relation to the forces that caused it. The specialists represent the fields of cultural anthropology, pediatrics, psychiatry, psychology, criminology and sociology.

Nearly everyone considers himself an expert on juvenile delinquency, and has firm ideas about its causes and cures. But, say the experts, it's not that simple, or delinquency would long since have ceased to be a major topic of national concern.

Over the years, says the NEA study, a great deal of fable and folklore has grown up around the problems of the adolescent.

Many people, for instance, point to working mothers as a major cause of delinquency according to the experts, however, the effects of a working mother varies from family to family, neighborhood to neighborhood. More research is needed, they say, before this theory can be accepted.

Broken homes often are blamed. But it may be only because the youngster with two parents to back him gets a better break in court. The youngster from a broken home runs a bigger risk of being sent off to a state institution — and he's the one who gets mentioned in the newspapers.

The proposition that delinquents aren't really bright is a common assumption with little or no scientific support, according to the report.

Another popular idea knocked by the experts is that "a community with many playgrounds is a community with little delinquency." Carefully planned recreation programs can help, they say, if coordinated with other efforts, but their research indicates no direct relationship between such programs and delinquency rates.

Bad companions, heredity, poor physical health and slum neighborhoods also were cited by the experts as oft-quoted causes of delinquency which really aren't.

"Juvenile delinquency is not a 24-hour malady," says the report. "It does not develop overnight. Serious and persistent trouble with the law on the part of youngsters can be traced back to a long sequence of cause and effect."

The current report offers no pat solution for the juvenile delinquency problem because, the experts say, there just isn't any.

The report did make these points, however:

There is a desperate need for more and better research than ever has been attempted in the field.

Community efforts that have proven effective must be expanded, and useless practices discarded.

More and better efforts must be made to identify the delinquency bound youngster before he gets there.

PTA At Chester Inducts Officers

Mrs. Alvin Reed, president, and other new officers of Chester Central Parent - Teacher Association were installed at a meeting Tuesday night at the high school.

Mrs. John Johnston, retiring president, was in charge.

Earl Pittenger was named chairman of an auditing committee to check financial records of the past year. It was announced a PTA officers' training meeting will be held June 12 at the Central School.

Mrs. Johnston requested members to support the proposed 50 per cent school levy at the special election Tuesday.

The group will send a delegate to a leaders training session June 5-7 at Camp Caesar, Webster Springs. A musical program was presented by the junior band under the direction of John Clovis.

Refreshments were served 175 by the sixth and seventh grade homeroom mothers, with Mrs. John Ludovici as chairman.

The group will meet Sept. 15.

Kiwanis Guest Speaks On Estonia And Latvia

The history of Estonia and Latvia in Central Europe was traced by Dr. Janis Lauva at a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at Piatt's Tea Room.

Dr. Lauva is from Latvia. He has been practicing in Wellsville since 1956. Thirty were present.

The group went to MacLean's Funeral Home to pay respects to Charles D. Piatt, a member, who died Monday.

William Winland and Robert Kemper of the Key Club were guests. Other guests were Jay Cochran of Ironton, an Ohio Bell Telephone Co. employe, and Albert Laub of Pittsburgh of the bond firm of Singer, Dean & Scribner.

Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara, president, presided.
